Corn Leaf Blight Losses May Not Be High As Feared

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A spokesman for the seed grain producing industry says predictable damage to the nation's corn crop from the spread of a leaf fungus epidemic is likely to be 2 to 7 per cent.

Thomas H. Roberts Jr., president of DeKalb Ag. Research Inc., DeKalb, Ill., which claims to be the nation's largest producer of hybrid seed, spoke Friday after a meeting in Washington with Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin.

Del D. Walker, president of the American Seed Trade Association and head of Funk Brothers Seed Co., Bloomington, Ill., said, "Reports that the entire corn seed crop was in danger of being wiped out by the blight are greatly exaggerated."

Last week a group of scientists and seed producers meeting at the University of Georgia said the spread of the leaf fungus blight from the Deep South to the Midwest corn belt could destroy 50 per cent of the nation's crop this year.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, supported the Washington seed grain producers Friday in quoting ranking Agriculture Department officials as saying losses may not exceed 5 per cent.

But in Illinois, state and university agriculture experts estimated that 25 to 50 per cent of the state's corn crop might be lost to the fungus. Illinois produced 953 million bushels of corn—about one-fifth the nation's total—last year.

Experts in Minnesota, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana and other corn producing states said it was too early to be sure how serious the damage would be.

A corn shortage could bring higher prices to consumers for many items, including eggs and meat.

Roberts said a study found some damage in southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, but that in most places the corn was mature enough to escape significant damage.

Dr. B. F. Janson, an Ohio State University plant pathologist, said that 75 per cent of the state's corn crop could be wiped out if the weather is rainy, humid and the temperatures are in the 80s for the next month. He added, however, that he did not expect such severe damage.

FAA Won't Publicize Plane Repair Data, Shaffer Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Granting the public free access to Federal Aviation Administration data on airline maintenance problems would do more harm than good for aviation safety, says FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer.

But Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the House subcommittee on government information and author of the 1967 Freedom of Information act, said the records should be made public.

Shaffer said he had rejected a request by consumer advocate Ralph Nader for data filed with the FAA by the airlines as to mechanical problems that arise in day-to-day operations.

Nader presumably demanded access to maintenance records to support his contentions of poor airline maintenance and government inspection.

Some of the information provided the FAA is required by law. But the airlines go beyond that and voluntarily provide a wealth of additional useful information, Shaffer said.

"If we are compelled to divulge this information it will dry up," Shaffer said. "The airlines are not required to provide it, and we won't get it."

Agnew Given Instructions For Asian Trip

Veep, President Hold Meeting In California

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew confers today with President Nixon and top White House officials before setting out on his second trip to Asia this year. The vice president, who visited 11 Asian and Pacific nations during a three-week trip in January, will be gone a little more than a week this time. South Korea, Nationalist China, Thailand and South Vietnam are on his itinerary.

His mission is to talk with and listen to Asian leaders on the Nixon Doctrine, under which the United States will provide assistance only to those Asian nations which help themselves.

Agnew, who had been in the Los Angeles area since a political speech Thursday night, planned to come by helicopter to the Western White House for meetings with Nixon, national security aide Henry Kissinger and other officials before his scheduled noon departure from nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

After a refueling stop in Hawaii, Agnew planned to continue west across the international dateline before an overnight stop at Guam.

On Monday, he flies to Seoul, South Korea, for two days of talks with officials concerned about U.S. plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 63,000 U.S. troops there.

The rest of Agnew's schedule has not been completed, but he is likely to spend at least one

2 Men Killed As Car Hits OSP Cruiser

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Mingo Junction men were killed Friday night when their auto slammed into an Ohio Highway Patrol car stopped alongside a road in Jefferson County.

That accident and several others during the night got the state's weekend traffic death toll off to a fast start.

The Highway Patrol said Patrolman Eugene N. Linn, 26, of the Steubenville post had stopped a car for a traffic violation along Ohio 7 on the south edge of Steubenville.

An auto driven by Adrian Dale Huggins, 50, swerved out of control off of the highway and crashed into the rear of the patrol car, shoving it into the auto the officer had stopped.

Huggins' auto and the patrol car burst into flames. Huggins was dead at the scene and his passenger, James Swisher, 22, died several hours later at Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville.

The patrol said Linn received minor burns trying to save the two men. The driver of the car Linn had stopped, Terry Kindsbatter, 20, of Steubenville, escaped injury.

Fair Skies Dominant Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant weather favored a large part of the nation today, but thunderstorms damped weekend activities in the central Plains, the Mississippi Valley and parts of the South.

A downpour of more than 1½ inches soaked Chanute, Kan., in the predawn hours. An inch or more drenched some Iowa communities.

Marble-size hail pelted downtown Amarillo, Tex., during a nighttime thunderstorm.

Heavy rains hit some areas late Friday. Up to 2½ inches fell on Tuscaloosa, Ala., and New Orleans. Nearly 2 inches washed Wichita, Kan.

Cool air that dropped temperatures into the frosty 30s in parts of the northern Great Lakes early Friday spread into the Northeast overnight.

Claim Egypt Still Violates Truce

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israel claims it has new "irrefutable" evidence that Egypt is "continuing grave violations" of the Middle East cease-fire by moving more SAM antiaircraft missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

The complaint, the fourth such since the cease-fire went into effect at midnight Aug. 7, was based on material gathered Thursday, Israel said.

The Israeli military command said the evidence indicates "the construction of missile batteries and other preparational work still in progress" within 20 miles of the canal. The terms of the truce bar new military deployment within 30 miles of the waterway.

There was no Egyptian comment on the charges. Egypt has refused to acknowledge any of Israel's charges of cease-fire violations.

In Washington, the State Department dismissed an Egyptian protest against American surveillance of the cease-fire by U2 spy planes and satellites. Egypt called such flights a "pretext for espionage," but State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said the United States had received no official statement on the matter from Egypt and would continue the surveillance.

The State Department also said there is reason for hope that indirect peace talks mediated by U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring will begin soon, perhaps by next week. McCloskey indicated that Jarring might have word by early in the week on the site or diplomatic level of the talks.

Indirect talks are the next stage of the Middle East peace plan proposed by the United States and accepted by Israel, Egypt and Jordan.

In New York, Israel's chief U.N. delegate, Yosef Tekoah, met with Jarring and said when asked if the negotiations would start by next week: "It's difficult for me to say."

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram says Egypt has instructed its chief U.N. delegate, Mohamed Hassan Elzayat, to press for New York as the site for the peace talks. Israel has told Jarring it would prefer that the talks be held on Cyprus, but a spokesman said the desire was not "an absolute condition."

Any Buildup By Commies May Be Hit

SAIGON (AP) — President Nixon has placed no geographical restrictions on U.S. Air Force strikes inside Cambodia against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops and supplies, informed sources said today.

The sources said that although some historical shrines such as the Angkor temple ruins northwest of Phnom Penh may be off limits to U.S. bombers, there are no geographical limitations if military officials believe enemy buildups might pose a threat to allied forces in South Vietnam.

This was the first time such a disclosure had been made, but the sources said it did not represent any change in policy.

The disclosure came in response to queries whether American planes had supported Cambodian forces during the heavy fighting Thursday and Friday within six to nine miles of Phnom Penh.

One source said no American warplanes had supported the

Fulbright Hits U.S. Aims In Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says he suspects U.S. technicians may be sent into Cambodia to operate electronic equipment supplied under a new arms aid program. The State Department denies any such plan.

An administration official has told Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee the United States will supply Cambodia with rifles, mortars, ammunition and other small arms and light equipment.

But Marshall Green, an assistant secretary of state, said there are no plans to send any U.S. advisers with it.

The administration set no figure on the value of the arms shipment, but Fulbright said he believes it will total about $40 million.

He said he anticipates there will be electronic gear, as well as small weapons, in the U.S. shipment of arms.

Fulbright said such equipment will be necessary to guide American warplanes involved in Cambodian operations.

Green told the Foreign Relations Committee Friday the arms aid does not signal a U.S. commitment to support the Lon Nol government in Phnom Penh.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said after the closed briefing that Green emphasized the United States does not intend to take on any commitment that would widen the Indochina war.

But Church said an enlarged military aid program carries the danger of such a commitment.

Absenteeism Forces Senate To Hold Up Big Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — After painting itself into a parliamentary corner, the Senate has been forced by absenteeism—in the midst of a roll-call—to delay until Monday its action on a $5.2 billion public works appropriations bill.

Oldtimers said they were unable to recall a similar incident in the past.

While the roll was being called Friday afternoon, Senate leaders found themselves unable to locate enough of the 100 members to conduct business.

However, it was late in the afternoon and a weekend was ahead—and this bill was sufficiently noncontroversial: It contains funds for various public works projects of generally localized interest in communities across the land. So, many senators obviously figured it would pass without difficulty.

As the roll was being called, however, it became clear many senators had left their offices—several of them returning home for a weekend of election-year campaigning. After it became obvious 51 senators could not be rounded up, the vote was read and showed the lack of a quorum. A formal quorum call followed and confirmed that fact—so the Senate adjourned until Monday.

The search continues this morning for the body of John Truitt who apparently drowned in Deer Creek Dam Thursday evening while on a fishing outing.

The Washington C. H. man toppled from his boat and disappeared in about 20 feet of water in the south corner of the reservoir.

Truitt, an army veteran of the Vietnam campaign, and a companion, Ralph Leeds of Washington C. H., were fishing and had been working on the malfunctioning boat motor.

Truitt was testing the engine when the mishap occurred.

LEEDS, being unable to swim, waded out into the water but had to return to shore when it became too deep for him to navigate.

Recovery operations are continuing with the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Pickaway County React and Rescue, Fayette County Civil Defense, Harrison Township Fire Department and Units from Ross County all working diligently.

Truitt is survived by his wife,

The State Department also said there is reason for hope that indirect peace talks mediated by U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring will begin soon, perhaps by next week. McCloskey indicated that Jarring might have word by early in the week on the site or diplomatic level of the talks.
Indirect talks are the next stage of the Middle East peace plan proposed by the United States and accepted by Israel, Egypt and Jordan.
In New York, Israel's chief U.N. delegate, Yosef Tekoah, met with Jarring and said when asked if the negotiations would start by next week: "It's difficult for me to say."
The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram says Egypt has instructed its chief U.N. delegate, Mohamed Hassan Elzayat, to press for New York as the site for the peace talks. Israel has told Jarring it would prefer that the talks be held on Cyprus, but a spokesman said the desire was not "an absolute condition."

Any Buildup By Commies May Be Hit

SAIGON (AP) — President Nixon has placed no geographical restrictions on U.S. Air Force strikes inside Cambodia against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops and supplies, informed sources said today.
The sources said that although some historical shrines such as the Angkor temple ruins northwest of Phnom Penh may be off limits to U.S. bombers, there are no geographical limitations if military officials believe enemy buildups might pose a threat to allied forces in South Vietnam.
This was the first time such a disclosure had been made, but the sources said it did not represent any change in policy.
The disclosure came in response to queries whether American planes had supported Cambodian forces during the heavy fighting Thursday and Friday within six to nine miles of Phnom Penh.
One source said no American warplanes had supported the (Continued on Page 10)

Absenteeism Forces Senate To Hold Up Big Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — After painting itself into a parliamentary corner, the Senate has been forced by absenteeism—in the midst of a roll-call—to delay until Monday its action on a $5.2 billion public works appropriations bill.
Oldtimers said they were unable to recall a similar incident in the past.
While the roll was being called Friday afternoon, Senate leaders found themselves unable to locate enough of the 100 members to conduct business: 51.
A call went out to track down senators who had not responded to the reading of their names the first time around. Slowly, one by one, they arrived on the floor. After an hour's delay, with the tally at 48 for passage and one against—and two short of a quorum—leaders called it quits for the weekend.
Longtime Senate-watchers said they could not remember the last time the Senate was forced to quit after failure to muster a majority of its members once a roll-call vote was under way on passage of a pending piece of legislation.
Often, the Senate is forced to wait until enough senators arrive on the floor in response to a quorum call.
This time, it had been expected a simple voice vote would be sufficient to handle this measure—but 69 senators had been located about noon and by the time the debate was over the leaders apparently figured they still had enough members around Capitol Hill to go through the formal yeas and nays.
However, it was late in the afternoon and a weekend was ahead—and this bill was sufficiently noncontroversial: It contains funds for various public works projects of generally localized interest in communities across the land. So, many senators obviously figured it would pass without difficulty.
As the roll was being called, however, it became clear many senators had left their offices—several of them returning home for a weekend of election-year campaigning. After it became obvious 51 senators could not be rounded up, the vote was read and showed the lack of a quorum. A formal quorum call followed and confirmed that fact—so the Senate adjourned until Monday.

National Guard Gets M16 Rifle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lightweight automatic M16 rifles are being issued to National Guard troops who will have the rapid-fire weapons available for combat and putting down riots and student disorders, it has been learned.
The M16s gradually are replacing World War II vintage M1 rifles and the newer M14 as the standard weapon in National Guard and Army Reserve combat units, a spokesman for the National Guard Bureau said Friday.
No official announcement was made of their distribution to Guard units, under frequent criticism in recent years for using too much firepower, too readily, in civil disturbances.
"It will be the only weapon issued to them, and if the governor of a state elects to have them carry weapons when called to quell riots or other disturbances, then this would be the weapon they could carry," the spokesman said.
Adj. Gen. Sylvester Del Corso of the Ohio National Guard offered the first public word of the distribution of the hard-hitting rifles while testifying at Kent State University before a presidential commission investigating campus disorders. He said his troops would be getting M16s this fall.
Four Kent State students were shot to death during a confrontation with Guardsmen on the campus last spring.
The spokesman confirmed M16's four to six months ago. He said about 200,000 are expected to be in the armories by mid-1971. Some will come from inventories in Vietnam as troops are withdrawn.

Search For Drowning Victim Continues At Deer Creek

The search continues this morning for the body of John Truitt who apparently drowned in Deer Creek Dam Thursday evening while on a fishing outing.
The Washington C. H. man toppled from his boat and disappeared in about 20 feet of water in the south corner of the reservoir.
Truitt, an army veteran of the Vietnam campaign, and a companion, Ralph Leeds of Washington C. H., were fishing and had been working on the malfunctioning boat motor.
Truitt was testing the engine when the mishap occurred.
LEEDS, being unable to swim, waded out into the water but had to return to shore when it became too deep for him to navigate.
Recovery operations are continuing with the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Pickaway County React and Rescue, Fayette County Civil Defense, Harrison Township Fire Department, Washington Fire Department and Units from Ross County all working diligently.
Truitt is survived by his wife, Gale Cline Truitt; a nine-month old son, Darron; his parents Mr. and Mrs. Karl Truitt, Washington C. H., and two sisters, Mrs. Melvin Copas, Lyndon and Mrs. David Groves, Jeffersonville.

Sharon Tate Also Hanged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blonde, pregnant Sharon Tate was hanged as well as stabbed, the county coroner says.
Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi, testifying for the state in the Tate murder trial, said there were rope burns on the actress' neck and left cheek, as well as 16 stab wounds on her body.
A picture of the dead woman's face, exhibited by the prosecution, showed two dark abrasions on the cheekbone.
"It is my opinion," Noguchi said, "that the rope contacted quite firmly. It is quite consistent that the decedent was hanged."
Police found a thick white nylon rope around the neck of the screen beauty, looped over a living room ceiling beam with the other end around the neck of Jay Sebring, another of the five victims.
Defense objections cut off questions on hanging just before the trial recessed until Monday. Noguchi said he expects to elaborate during later testimony.

Cloud And Gilligan Schedule 3 Debates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican Roger Cloud and Democrat John J. Gilligan have announced the scheduling of three joint statewide television appearances during the fall campaign.
The two gubernatorial candidates said Friday in a joint statement they have asked each of Ohio's television stations to provide prime time for the one-hour programs. They said the first appearance is planned for the third week in September and requested that questions be asked by a panel of representative newsmen.

Fulbright Hits U.S. Aims In Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says he suspects U.S. technicians may be sent into Cambodia to operate electronic equipment supplied under a new arms aid program. The State Department denies any such plan.
An administration official has told Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee the United States will supply Cambodia with rifles, mortars, ammunition and other small arms and light equipment.
But Marshall Green, an assistant secretary of state, said there are no plans to send any U.S. advisers with it.
The administration set no figure on the value of the arms shipment, but Fulbright said he believes it will total about $40 million.
He said he anticipates there will be electronic gear, as well as small weapons, in the U.S. shipment of arms.
Fulbright said such equipment will be necessary to guide American warplanes involved in Cambodian operations.
Green told the Foreign Relations Committee Friday: "The arms aid does not signal a U.S. commitment to support the Lon Nol government in Phnom Penh."
Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said after the closed briefing that Green emphasized the United States does not intend to take on any commitment that would widen the Indochina war.
But Church said an enlarged military aid program carries the danger of such a commitment.

Pointers From Penni

By PENNI LOUDEN

Home Economics Agents

Let the mood of your home change with the season. It need not cost much, because you can achieve this with accessories. You may have to spend more thought and time than money to find attractive accessories.

Before buying, look in your attic, kitchen, china cabinet and basement to see what might be used as an interesting accessory. China, pottery and pewter pitchers, copper bowls, coffee and teapots can be used as interesting pieces even when empty; or they can successfully hold flowers, growing plants or flowering branches.

Baskets or brass buckets can hold magazines. Old pieces of glass, china or silver used generations ago, such as toothpick holder and bone dishes, can hold matches and ashes for today's smoker. Plates, trays and platters can be used in a standing position or hung on the wall to add interest to a mantel or a chest arrangement. Old glassware and china, such as preserve stands, soup tureens and colored tumblers can add color, charm and distinction to a room.

Before choosing your accessories, analyze your furniture styles. Is your furniture informal? Early American and much modern furniture is informal. With these styles, use rough textured accessories, such as pottery, baskets, stone, wood or metal objects. If your furniture is more formal and traditional in styling, use fine-textured accessories such as china, crystal and silver. If it is semi-formal, you could use medium-textured accessories, such as medium weight metals, china and glass.

The mistake most often made in using accessories is placing too many small ones in a room. Many small articles add clutter and require too much dusting. Empty spaces add to the dignity and restfulness of a room. Do not add something just to fill up space unless it is needed. Examine the background against which the accessory would be placed. The article may be lost against a decorated background.

Choose and place useful accessories first. Add others cautiously, as you would a pinch of salt to food. Make the most of one truly beautiful accessory. Perhaps you can have something distinctive to interest people when they enter a room.

How can you tell if an article has good design? Here are some guidelines:

The lines are good if they are simple and related to the object and its use. Lines should carry the eye easily from one point to another and around the object.

The shape is good if shapes within the object are in good proportion to each other and are related by repetition or variation. Consider the use of the object when you think of its shape.

Textures add interest to an object. Fake textures are sometimes considered poor design. See if the properties of the basic material can be used to give the object its natural beauty.

Color is one of the eye-catching features of an accessory. The natural color of a material is often its best color. Colors need to suit the mood of the accessory and provide accents or continuity to your color scheme.

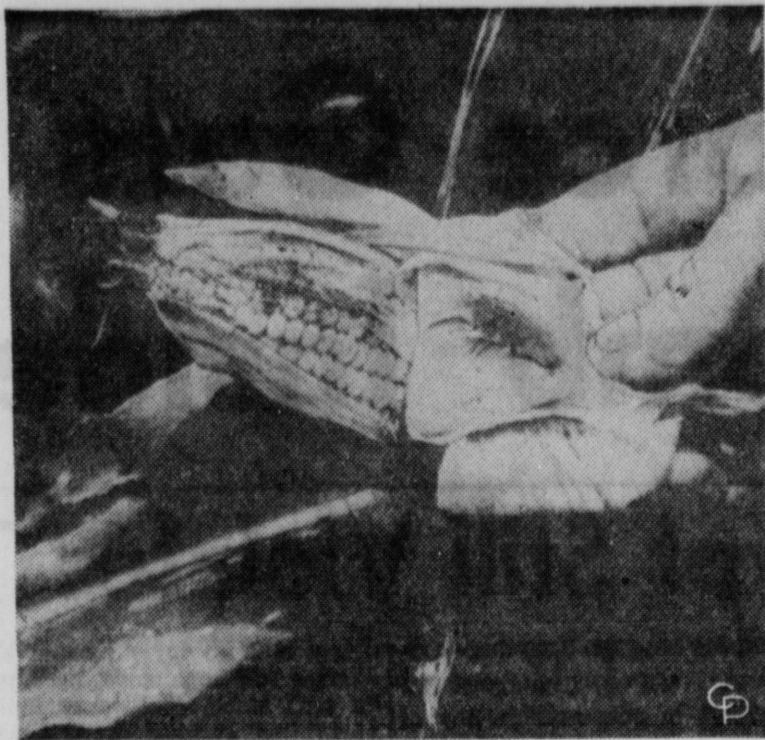

Remember—Simple objects without added decorations often can serve more purposes. When an accessory is arranged with other objects and is part of a total effect, simplicity of decoration becomes even more important.

CORN BLIGHT—This ear of corn from the fields of Ray Creelman near Burlington, Iowa, shows the effects of the yellow leaf corn blight threatening the field corn crop through the Midwest and into Canada.

Corn Leaf Blight Moves To Ohio

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

A fungus disease known as southern corn leaf blight is causing widespread concern on the part of farmers and agricultural scientists throughout the corn-growing areas of the United States.

It has been found in epidemic proportions throughout the Gulf states, up into the north central states, and it is being reported widely in Ohio.

It was diagnosed on field corn from Southern Ohio during the first week of August. "By August 15 we had received reports of the leaf blight from most sections of Ohio — Lucas County in the northwest, Sandusky County in the north central and Portage County in the northeast," says B. F. Janson, Extension plant pathologist at The Ohio State University.

This new strain of fungus, highly virulent on corn which contains Texas male-sterile cytoplasm, has become widespread this year for the first time. The Tms cytoplasm is a major source of male sterility for hybrid corn production, accounting for the rapid spread of the disease.

IT'S estimated that 50 to 75 per cent of the corn planted in Ohio has Tms cytoplasm, reports C. Wayne Ellett, Extension plant pathologist and Plant Disease Clinic coordinator at Ohio State.

Once the disease is well established in a field it's not likely that chemical control will be effective.

Even if chemicals could be applied before or in the early stages of disease development, the cost of the materials would be too high to justify their use on field corn to be sold as cash grain or used for livestock feed, according to Extension Agronomist Gordon Ryder at Ohio State. A spray program might be feasible in seed production fields which are susceptible.

Symptoms of the blight are tan spots on corn leaves ranging from minute specks to spots 1/2 inch wide and 1 1/2 inches long. The new race of the southern corn leaf blight fungus is also capable of causing a serious ear rot.

It's too early to estimate the extent of loss. Weather conditions during the next three or four weeks will be important in determining the further development of the disease. Ellett explains, pointing out that the fungus is favored by rainy weather, high humidity, and temperatures in the 80's.

Gilligan Says GOP Ignores Mass Transit

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for governor, accused the Republican state administration of having done "virtually nothing" to aid mass transit systems in Ohio.

"Ohio's idea of priority in transportation is to propose a fantastically expensive bridge across Lake Erie while many of Ohio's citizens can barely get to work in their own cities," he declared.

Eggs A Good Buy This Fall

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Egg prices at stores this month are a lot lower than they were at this time a year ago. This is mainly because more eggs are being produced, reports Ralph Baker, poultry economist at The Ohio State University.

Egg production is up about two per cent over last year. During the first eight months of 1970, the nation's egg laying flocks produced about a half billion more eggs than in the same eight months of 1969, Baker says.

With this increased production, along with somewhat higher supplies of red meat this fall, egg prices aren't expected to sell up to last year's retail levels of above 80 cents a dozen. Even if Grade A or Grade

AA large eggs sell as high as 79 cents a dozen, that's equivalent to only 50 cents a pound. The more usual high price for large eggs during the fall months is likely to be somewhere in the 69 cent category for large Grade A eggs, only about 44 cents a pound.

SMALLER sizes of eggs will be low priced compared to the larger sizes during the months ahead, because more new layers are being added to the nation's laying flock each month than a year ago. This applies to both medium and small eggs.

An average dozen of large eggs weighs about 25 ounces while medium eggs weigh 22 ounces and small eggs about 19 ounces. If the large eggs are 69 cents a dozen, the consumer who wants to get an equivalent amount of eggs by weight could afford to pay 61 cents a dozen for medium eggs or 52 cents for small eggs.

Many homemakers buy small or medium eggs for their children when they are serving them as individual eggs.

But if you are interested in cost per pound only, medium eggs on the average are worth about 12 per cent less than large eggs. Small and large egg prices will be about the same per pound when small eggs cost 24 per cent than large ones, Baker points out.

Another rule of thumb on cost per pound is if large egg prices are 63 to 70 cents a dozen medium eggs are worth eight cents less a dozen and small eggs are worth about 16 cents a dozen less. If large prices are 55 to 62 cents a dozen, medium eggs are worth seven cents less a dozen. From 46 to 54 cents a dozen for large eggs, the equivalent cost per pound for medium eggs is 6 cents a dozen less than for large eggs and about 12 cents a dozen less for small eggs, the Extension poultry economist advises.

Accelerated Rural Housing Program Announced By FHA

The Farmers Home Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture credit agency, is announcing its accelerated rural housing program for fiscal year 1971 (July 1, 1970 to June 30, 1971).

During this last year the Farmers Home Administration in Ohio extended credit for housing to 1241 families with more than $13 million in loans, about $4 million more than was extended in 1969.

Housing authorities estimate the need to double or even triple the rate at which housing is becoming available. With these facts in mind, Congress has increased the funds allocated to the Farmers Home Administration to make loans to eligible applicants for the purchase, construction or repair of modest but adequate housing in rural areas and towns under a population of 5500.

Adequate funds have been made available to Ohio to enable Farmers Home Administration to aid more families than were helped in the previous year.

RURAL housing loans are made only to applicants who are unable to obtain the credit they need from private lenders on terms and conditions they reasonably can be expected to fulfill.

Many new homes can be constructed under this program. Applications are being taken at the present time. Loans will be processed in a minimum of time for modest construction to families of moderate income.

Loans can be amortized over a period up to 33 years, keeping payments under 20 to 25 per cent of income.

Applications should be made at the County Farmers Home Administration office serving the area in which the property is to be located.

Improved rural housing is a major goal of the Farmers Home Administration. If you

Controversial Prof Is Hired By Small College

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — David Kettler, former Ohio State University professor who was a frequent speaker at campus demonstrations last spring, has been hired as an instructor at Franconia College in New Hampshire.

Franconia President Leon Boststein described Kettler, 23, as a "fine scholar" and "an asset to Franconia," an experimental progressive school.

Earlier this year, Kettler resigned from OSU to join the faculty of Purdue University. But Purdue trustees later withdrew the appointment and settled with Kettler by paying him a year's salary.

Boststein said the controversial political science professor would receive a "modest" salary at Franconia.

ABRAHAM RESPONDS TO GOD'S REVELATIONS

Scripture—Genesis 12-25.

By R. H. RAMSEY
FROM the time of the flood to the birth of Abraham some three hundred years elapsed. He was born in Ur of Chalde, the highly civilized capital of the richest area of the Euphrates valley. Sometime after Abraham reached adulthood, his father, Terah, took the family into the land of Canaan, apparently in obedience to some divine revelation. Before reaching Canaan, however, they settled in the city of Haran, living there until Terah died. After his death there was a second revelation, this time from God to Abraham, commanding him to leave Haran for a land which He would show them. If Abraham obeyed, God would make a great nation of him, bless him with His presence and communion, give him a family and make his name great.

Abraham responded with complete trust in God and unwavering obedience. Though he was seventy-five years old, he led his wife Sarah, his nephew, would bear him a son and they would call him Isaac.

Skipping to Chapter 21, we find the account of the birth of Isaac and the expulsion of the bondwoman, Hagar, and her son by Abraham, Ishmael. Through Abraham's intercessory plans, God protected Hagar and Ishmael in the wilderness until he was grown, eventually making a great nation out of his descendants.

With Ishmael gone, Isaac became Abraham's only son, his pride and joy, the son of the covenant. Still, the greatest test of Abraham's faith was yet to come.

Abraham was commanded to take his son into the land of Moriah and there offer him up as a burnt offering on a mountain to which the Lord would lead them.

Though he must have been horrified, he did as God bade him. God's will was painful, but Abraham acknowledged His authority and made the necessary preparations for the journey.

GOLDEN TEXT

"For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness." Romans 4:3.

Lot, the remainder of his family and all their belongings into the land of Canaan.

Arriving at Shechem, near the geographical center of Canaan—now the city of Nablus and probably the most beautiful spot in central Palestine, Abraham built an altar and worshipped God in gratitude for his safe journey and God's gift of such a beautiful land.

Still largely nomadic in his habits, Abraham next pitched his tents near Bethel, again building an altar and worshipping God before moving farther southward.

With 11 chapters assigned to this lesson, we will skip several of them, three of which will be considered in next week's lesson. Chapter 15, however, deals with God's renewed promise that his wife, Sarah, would bear him a son whose posterity would be innumerable. Despite his advancing years, Abraham continued believing this.

In Chapter 17, God reveals that, at the age of ninety, Sarah

Chicago Barbers Start War Against Long-Hair Groups

CHICAGO (AP) — The number of barbers in Chicago has been trimmed by the long-hair fad, so their union is urging them to cut their patronage of the shaggy maned.

"We've lost about 400 barbers in the last couple of years," said Thomas Siracusa, secretary-treasurer of Local 543 of the Journeyman Barbers Union, AFL-CIO.

Siracusa said that his local, which he described as the largest in the nation, is down to a membership of 2,500 from close to 3,000 about two years ago.

"In our magazine we try to promote the clean-cut look," he said. "And we're telling our barbers not to patronize long-hairs."

"They don't give us any business," he said. "Why should we give them any?"

"I even told my wife, 'If you go to a store where longhairs work don't buy there, go someplace else.'"

"And what can the wives say?" Siracusa continued. "If we don't bring home the money what can they do?"

"I think the government should do something about it," Siracusa said.

"They should kick these long-hairs out of school, as dirty as some of them are. This is a national problem, it's hurting barbers all across the country."

He said many of the barbers in his local quit the trade to go into another business. Most of the job attrition has been in shops that employed more than one barber.

"If a barber shop had three barbers," Siracusa said, "it's down to one or two barbers. They just can't afford to keep on more."

Cloud Hits Gilligan Spending Proposals

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Roger Cloud said here his Democratic opponent has proposed increasing Ohio taxes 85 per cent without dettling any tax reforms.

State Plans Emergency Aid For Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state took a step it hopes may forestall any threatened closing schools this autumn because of financial difficulties, with a special "one shot" distribution of supplemental state assistance totaling $26,106,841.

The disbursement was authorized recently by emergency legislation. It went to 626 school districts and 88 county boards of education in addition to the regular monthly distribution of school foundation funds.

The money is designed to prevent any delay in the opening of schools this fall. The emergency legislation also authorized local school boards to borrow money and issue notes for up to 50 per cent of the tax revenues anticipated by the schools in any one year.

Of the total distribution, $8,439,113 was made available through a new legislative appropriation, while the balance consisted of japses of legislative appropriations for the 1970 school year as determined by the Ohio Department of Education.

State Auditor Roger Cloud said the distribution of the new funds are being made on the basis of $400 per classroom unit in additional aid districts, and $240 per approved classroom unit in the flat aid districts. In addition, the various county boards of education are sharing in a $144,000 appropriation, at the rate of $240 per certificated employee.

About one-fifth—19.7 per cent—of the total distribution went to the ten large city districts in the state, topped by Columbus at $1,374,068. The other big districts include Cleveland, $1,114,874; Cincinnati $609,377; Toledo $450,696; Akron $425,911; Dayton $415,944; Parma $322,480; Springfield $233,652; Youngstown $192,468 and Canton $31,210.

Judge Limits Presidential Threat Law

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A U.S. Court of Appeals judge has ruled that a threat against a president can be the basis of a conviction "only if made with a present intention to do injury to the president."

"There is no danger to the president's safety from one who utters a true threat and has no intent to do actually what he threatens," Judge J. Braxton Craven wrote in the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals decision reversing the conviction of Ronald Douglas Patillo.

The decision ordered a new trial for Patillo, who was convicted in U.S. District Court at Norfolk of threatening the life of President Nixon and was sentenced to four years in prison.

Dear Abby: Are They Really Unwelcome?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who complains constantly to me because she lives in a clannish neighborhood. She says that her neighbors come over for coffee every morning even before she has her last one off to school. And a few of them stay until it's time for lunch and she can't get her housework done.

They don't wait to be offered coffee—they help themselves. (She uses five pounds of coffee a week and she is the only adult in her family who drinks it.)

I told her to put a sign outside her door, "SORRY, NO TIME FOR COFFEE TODAY," but she says she hasn't got the nerve.

Her husband travels, and when he's home the neighbors are there having coffee right with him. How can I help my friend get rid of these pests? I'm afraid she'll have a nervous breakdown.

WEST SIDER

DEAR WEST: Many people complain that they are constantly being "imposed upon" by unwelcome guests, but for some strange reason they never do anything about it. This leads me to suspect that the "victim" not only secretly enjoys these drop-in pests, but enjoys complaining about them. It's her coffee, her time and her problem. When she complains to me, I'll recommend a foolproof pest exterminator.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great person—except for one thing: HIS TEMPER. He has never hit me, but I'm starting to get scared. He gets mad over the least little thing. He broke the leg off the TV because he couldn't get a clear picture, and if somebody happens to get a wrong number and rings our place by mistake, he yells at them like they committed some kind of crime.

He has always had a hot temper but he used to cool down fast. Now he gets mad at the least little thing and he stays mad for hours and sometimes days. Could something be wrong with him?

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: Yes. But I am no doctor which is what your husband needs in order to determine if his fits of anger are symptoms of a serious illness or if he is just overreacting in a childish way.

DEAR ABBY: "X" and I are getting married soon at a formal wedding in a church. Three out of the four ushers have long hair. This will look terrible with tuxes. I think those three should either cut their hair or wear one of those short stretch wigs they have for men now.

Agnew Attacks Demo 'Socialism'

BEVERLEY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says "Republican fiscal responsibility" is keeping the Democrats from destroying the free enterprise system and from bringing on socialism in America.

At a fund-raising dinner for Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., Agnew said Democrats in congress are offering "cotton candy" . . . freewheeling, fancy wheeling, fancy promises.

"If we took into the hands of the federal government all of the money that the Democrats would need for the programs that they propose, we would no longer have a free economy," Agnew said. "We would have socialism."

The vice president said Democrats on the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee have proposed annual spending programs of more than $440 billion. This would be more than twice the federal budget and more than one half the Gross National Product, he said.

"I have absolutely no hesitation in saying that if we accept all these proposals, the American private enterprise system would be taxed beyond its capability and collapse," Agnew asserted.

ABRAHAM RESPONDS TO GOD'S REVELATIONS

Scripture—Genesis 18-23.

By R. H. RAMSEY
FROM the time of the flood to the birth of Abraham some three hundred years elapsed. He was born in Ur of Chaldea, the highly civilized capital of the richest area of the Euphrates valley. Sometime after Abraham reached adulthood, his father, Terah, took the family into the land of Canaan, apparently in obedience to some divine revelation. Before reaching Canaan, however, they settled in the city of Haran, living there until Terah died. After his death there was a second revelation, this time from God to Abraham, commanding him to leave Haran for a land which He would show them. If Abraham obeyed, God would make a great nation of him, bless him with His presence and communion, give him a family and make his name great.

Abraham responded with complete trust in God and unwavering obedience. Though he was seventy-five years old, he led his wife Sarah, his nephew, would bear him a son and they would call him Isaac.

Skipping to Chapter 21, we find the account of the birth of Isaac and the expulsion of the bondswoman, Hagar, and her son by Abraham, Ishmael. Through Abraham's intercessory plans, God protected Hagar and Ishmael in the wilderness until he was grown, eventually making a great nation out of his descendants.

With Ishmael gone, Isaac became Abraham's only son, his pride and joy, the son of the covenant. Still, the greatest test of Abraham's faith was yet to come.

Abraham was commanded to take his son into the land of Moriah and there offer him up as a burnt offering on a mountain to which the Lord would lead them.

Though he must have been horrified, he did as God bade him. God's will was painful, but Abraham acknowledged His authority and made the necessary preparations for the journey.

GOLDEN TEXT

"For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness." Romans 4:3.

Lot, the remainder of his family and all their belongings into the land of Canaan.

Arriving at Shechem, near the geographical center of Canaan—now the city of Nablous and probably the most beautiful spot in central Palestine, Abraham built an altar and worshiped God in gratitude for his safe journey and God's gift of such a beautiful land.

Still largely nomadic in his habits, Abraham next pitched his tents near Bethel, again building an altar and worshiping God before moving farther southward.

With 11 chapters assigned to this one lesson, we will skip several of them, three of which will be considered in next week's lesson. Chapter 15, however, deals with God's renewed promise to his wife, Sarah, would bear him a son whose posterity would be innumerable. Despite his advancing years, Abraham continued believing this.

In Chapter 17, God reveals that, at the age of ninety, Sarah

On the third day, Abraham saw their destination. Commanding his servants to wait for them, Abraham took the fire and the knife and, with Isaac bearing the wood, led the way up the mountain.

As they climbed, Isaac asked his father where the sacrificial lamb was. Abraham reassured him, saying that God would provide one.

Arriving at the place God had indicated to him, Abraham built an altar, laid the wood upon it and bound his son to it.

It was the supreme act of faith, for just as Abraham took the knife to slay his son, God stayed his hand. In place of Isaac, a ram, caught in the bushes by his horns became the offering.

Afterwards, an angel spoke again to Abraham of God's intention for Abraham and his descendants. And Abraham returned to his home with a deeper faith in God and a greater assurance that what God had promised He would bring to pass.

State Plans Emergency Aid For Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state took a step it hopes may forestall any threatened closing schools this autumn because of financial difficulties, with a special "one shot" distribution of supplemental state assistance totaling $26,106,841.

The disbursement was authorized recently by emergency legislation. It went to 626 school districts and 88 county boards of education in addition to the regular monthly distribution of school foundation funds.

The money is designed to prevent any delay in the opening of schools this fall. The emergency legislation also authorized local school boards to borrow money and issue notes for up to 50 per cent of the tax revenues anticipated by the schools in any one year.

Of the total distribution, $8,439,113 was made available through a new legislative appropriation, while the balance consisted of lapses of legislative appropriations for the 1970 school year as determined by the Ohio Department of Education.

State Auditor Roger Cloud said the distribution of the new funds are being made on the basis of $400 per classroom unit in additional aid districts, and $240 per approved classroom unit in the flat aid districts. In addition, the various county boards of education are sharing in a $144,000 appropriation, at the rate of $240 per certificated employee.

About one-fifth—19.7 per cent—of the total distribution went to the ten large city districts in the state, topped by Columbus at $1,374,068. The other big districts include Cleveland, $1,114,874; Cincinnati $609,377; Toledo $450,696; Akron $425,911; Dayton $415,914; Parma $322,480; Springfield $233,652; Youngstown $192,468 and Canton $31,210.

Judge Limits Presidential Threat Law

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A U.S. Court of Appeals judge has ruled that a threat against a president can be the basis of a conviction "only if made with a present intention to do injury to the president."

"There is no danger to the president's safety from one who utters a true threat and has no intent to do actually what he threatens," Judge J. Braxton Craven wrote in the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals decision reversing the conviction of Ronald Douglas Patillo.

The decision ordered a new trial for Patillo, who was convicted in U.S. District Court at Norfolk of threatening the life of President Nixon and was sentenced to four years in prison.

Dear Abby: Are They Really Unwelcome?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who complains constantly to me because she lives in a clannish neighborhood. She says that her neighbors come over for coffee every morning even before she has her last one off to school. And a few of them stay until it's time for lunch and she can't get her housework done.

They don't wait to be offered coffee—they help themselves. (She uses five pounds of coffee a week and she is the only adult in her family who drinks it.)

I told her to put a sign outside her door, "SORRY, NO TIME FOR COFFEE TODAY," but she says she hasn't got the nerve.

Diphtheria Cases Rise In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Confirmed diphtheria cases in San Antonio had risen to 56 for the year Friday with two more children added to the list in a steadily growing epidemic.

Health officials also counted nine suspected cases of the disease, which has taken two children's lives this year.

An estimated 20,000 persons received diphtheria shots at immunization centers Thursday, officials said, raising the total of inoculations to about 80,000 since Aug. 10.

Chicago Barbers Start War Against Long-Hair Groups

CHICAGO (AP)—The number of barbers in Chicago has been trimmed by the long-hair fad, so their union is urging them to cut their patronage of the shaggy maned.

"We've lost about 400 barbers in the last couple of years," said Thomas Siracusa, secretary-treasurer of Local 543 of the Journeyman Barbers Union, AFL-CIO.

Siracusa said that his local, which he described as the largest in the nation, is down to a membership of 2,500 from close to 3,000 about two years ago.

"In our magazine we try to promote the clean-cut look," he said. "And we're telling our barbers not to patronize long-hairs."

"They don't give us any business," he said. "Why should we give them any?"

"I even told my wife, 'If you go to a store where longhairs work don't buy there, go someplace else.'"

"And what can the wives say?" Siracusa continued. "If we don't bring home the money what can they do?"

"I think the government should do something about it," Siracusa said.

"They should kick these long-hairs out of school, as dirty as some of them are. This is a national problem, it's hurting barbers all across the country."

He said many of the barbers in his local quit the trade to go into another business. Most of the job attrition has been in shops that employed more than one barber.

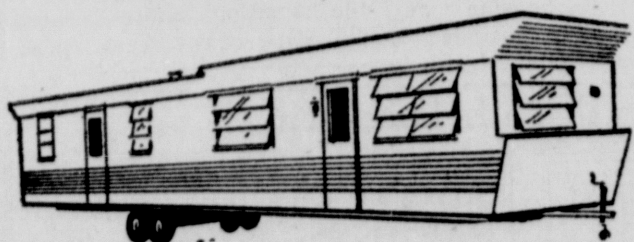

"If a barber shop had three barbers," Siracusa said, "it's down to one or two barbers. They just can't afford to keep on more."

Cloud Hits Gilligan Spending Proposals

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate Roger Cloud said here his Democratic opponent has proposed increasing Ohio taxes 85 per cent without deterring any tax reforms.

"Ohioans are learning that we cannot afford John Gilligan's spending and taxing schemes," Cloud said. He called Gilligan's policies irresponsible.

Detroit's Other Battle

While Detroit's auto makers are fighting one battle at the conference table with union negotiators over wage demands, another confrontation is shaping up that's likely to be equally important to the future of America's economy.

General Motors will fire the opening gun in the second conflict on Sept. 10 when it puts on sale its new sub-compact car, the Vega. Ford joins the battle the following day with its Pinto, and Chrysler will be along later with its own answer to low-priced foreign imports.

In the 1960s, compact models were introduced but at prices well above those for some of the imported cars, and with options that widened the gap. They failed to stem the import tide, so now the stripping-down and price competition will begin.

A year ago, foreign makes accounted for 12.5 percent of this country's total sales of new cars. By July, monthly sales of imports took 15.6 per cent of the market.

Detroit is counting on sales of the new U. S. sub-compacts to cut mainly into the imported models' market, not the American makers' own higher-priced cars.

More is at stake than merely a test of sales strength between Detroit and the overseas auto makers. The confrontation will indicate whether our industrial ingenuity and efficiency are still preeminent and whether America will be able, in the face of increasingly tough overseas competition, to take her place as the free world's leading economic power.

Recount Plans

Official population counts no longer serve merely as tallies of the number of people living within a prescribed area. In addition to providing the basis for congressional representation, which they always have, they also increasingly determine the allocation of federal and state aid monies.

Understandably, then, some of those cities and towns which have lost population according to the latest census count are not happy with the results. They see a retrenchment of some of their community services coming, or even worse, an increase in local taxes.

Thus, the spate of local challenges to official figures released by the Census Bureau. Some cities are threatening to take their own counts.

Sen. John Sparkman has introduced legislation which provides one possible solution to the controversy.

Local governments could go ahead with their own counts, using "standards and criteria used by the secretary of commerce." The Commerce Department would be asked to verify the findings, and if both parties agreed on a count which was at least one per cent higher than the original figure, the federal government would pay the cost of the recount.

How many communities would be willing to gamble on a margin of error of one per cent is the only question. If too many did, the 1970 census could still be underway a year from now. By that time the shifting tide of population could have everyone confused.

Delon—no matter how heavy a thumb he put on the scales.

But the actor, who once whacked up hams in his stepfather's pork shop in a Paris suburb, is now cutting a wider swath as an international matinee idol.

At 34, tall, dark, blue-eyed and handsome, Delon is strikingly reminiscent of the late Tyrone Power. In the latest of his 30 or more films, "Borsalino," which he also produced, he is co-starred with Jean-Paul Belmondo. They play a couple of small-time rogues who wind up dominating the Marseilles underworld.

Vanity is about the only buffer an actor has between himself and the rude shocks of this world, and many a one believes his career to be the most important thing in the universe.

Alain regards his craft with a more Gallic practicality.

"A statesman, a scientist or a writer can put his stamp upon his time," he said, "but not an actor. There is a difference between creativity and interpretation."

"I don't have the vanity to want to be eternal. A famous painter might paint your portrait, and it might be eternal—but you wouldn't be eternal."

"It is only the creation that is eternal. It remains. The individual is dead."

Alain put down his butcher knife at 17 and spent four years in the French marines. He worked briefly as a porter before journeying with a group of actor friends to the film festival at Cannes, where he caught the eyes of producers.

His youthful experiences left Delon with some intense and positive views about living.

"Life is a constant fight, but beautiful," he said. "You fight every day for what you believe, but it is worth it. It is all too short anyway. It is a race run so fast it is a shame."

"I want to live for myself and the few people I love. I want to do only the things I believe in deeply, so that I can look in the mirror at my face and not be ashamed."

Divorced more than two years ago from his actress wife, Nathalie Delon, Alain is devoted to his 6-year-old son Anthony.

"I worry only about him and no one else," he said. "All my life is him. He is the continuation of myself."

"I am almost of the past. He is the future."

"He is so sensitive, so touching—and so sensible. I'd like him to be a surgeon."

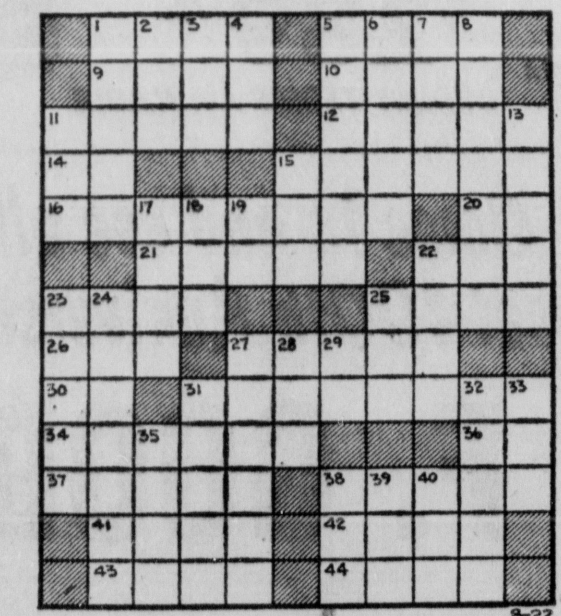

Discussing his own personality, Alain said he felt his best quality was "a sense of friendship," and his worst fault lack of self-control.

"I lose my temper over things, big or little, when people are weak or mean. There is too much hypocrisy in life."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HARVARD boasts a club that's so exclusive that two future Presidents of the United States were blackballed. One member, however, grows indignant when his group is accused of being undemocratic. "To prove my point," he points out angrily, "the year I rowed on the varsity crew, I knew the names of all but the three men up front."

An understanding judge dealt leniently with a besotted dilette, who explained mournfully, "Your Honor, I consider myself a pillar of the local temperance society. The trouble is that every night I find myself, for some unaccountable reason, as drunk as a coot."

A newly elected Senator came home from his freshman year in Washington with views that were radically different than the ones proclaimed in his campaign. A friend who had previously disagreed vehemently with his opinions told him, "I'm certainly glad that at long last you appear to have seen the light." "I didn't see the light," admitted the Senator. "I felt the heat."

Robert Townsend, in his provocative book, "Up the Organization," dismisses management consultants and outside "efficiency experts" as men who "borrow your watch to tell you what time it is and then walk off with it." He adds that never in his fabulously successful business career did he attend a board meeting that produced one workable proposal from a director.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Shortages of blood for transfusions continue despite the dedicated efforts of Bloodmobiles of the Red Cross and other organizations. It is for this reason that blood substitutes are constantly being sought to ensure availability for transfusions.

At the Harvard School of Public Health, Dr. Robert H. Geyer has been using a type of blood substitute which seems to satisfy the body needs when it is depleted of its normal content of blood.

Dr. Leland C. Clark Jr. at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine has been using another kind of synthetic blood which carries oxygen to blood tissue and removes the waste product, carbon dioxide. This satisfies one of the basic requirements for the maintenance of health.

The preliminary work is so successful that it is hoped that before long, blood substitutes will be used in many medical emergencies in parts of the country where blood is not readily available. Eventually, this brilliant discovery may even obviate the need for the very rare blood types that are so difficult to find for urgent transfusion.

An exciting statement was made by Dr. John J. Witt of the United States Public Health Service at the annual convention of the American Medical Association. He said (and predicted), that "the judicious use of the German measles or 'rubella' vaccine in a permanently prevent another national catastrophe similar to the one which occurred six years ago when hundreds of malformed children were born after an epidemic."

It has been a year since the new German measles vaccine was given the stamp of approval for complete safety. So effective is this vaccine, that German measles will soon be added to that long list of illnesses wiped out by modern science.

All women of childbearing age should have the benefit of this protection, for German measles during pregnancy may harm the fetus and bring calamity to the newborn child. The slight side effects that follow the administration of the vaccine are insignificant and are not dangerous. No one need pay a penalty for carelessness or neglect by taking advantage of this remarkable precaution.

An interesting observation was made by Dr. Hall T. Lahti of Michigan. He has found that when patients are told that their recovery from surgery and discharge from the hospital will be short, this indeed does occur. He also found that the recovery period was hastened and that the need for pain-killing drugs was greatly reduced.

A cheerful attitude is the best gift a visitor can bring to a family member or friend in the hospital.

You're Telling Me

By William Ritt
Central Press Writer

Three Navy scientists have evidence that our universe was created by a "big bang" 10 or 12 billion years ago. The nuclear age has just about provided for it to go that way, too.

It's nice to think the universe was created by a big bang. It just goes to show life is what you put into it.

The scientists conducted an X-ray survey of a giant galaxy 782.4 million billion miles away. That means the argument is far fetched.

Our own galaxy is the Milky Way. The Milky Way is getting smaller and higher.

The big bang theory is that all matter in the universe was, for a single second, confined in one "primordial atom" at 10,000 million degrees heat. It blew up and you can still see the mess.

Since the explosion, the creation theory goes, matter has condensed into the galaxies we know now. But with a lot of optional features added.

Another theory is that creation is continuous, without beginning or end. That's the steady-state, or what's the use, theory.

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — As usual, Dr. Franz Pick is angry, even though he has removed himself from the scene of battle for a few days to vacation on the southern shore of Long Island.

Even at rest, the 72-year-old "conscience of currency" cannot forget that the value of almost all the world's monies are being diluted. And he won't forgive the sinful governments, the United States included, which permit values to deteriorate.

Pick doesn't believe that currencies simply erode; that's too passive, and it suggests a trend over which humans have no control. Not so, Pick maintains. "Governments are responsible for their monetary destiny," he states unequivocally. And when they permit inflation, they are "debasers" of currency—and much more than that if you wish to hear Pick to the end.

To hear Pick use the word "debased" in a Bohemian accent, enriched by years of education in Germany and France, is to know he is emotionally involved in his subject, and that if he had the power, debasers would be sentenced to hell.

Nevertheless, he must deal with debasers. The 103 currencies he monitors as consultant to foreign central banks and United States and foreign companies are continually being debased. He is particularly upset about the dollar, and he has railed against U.S. policies. As a result, says his assistant, "The Treasury wouldn't give him the time of day."

A sample of his distress is contained in a recent copy of Pick's World Currency Report, called "The Constant Dollar," an ironic title because the contents are devoted to showing the fickleness of American money.

Government reports on purchasing power, he points out, are based on 1958 equalling 100. The year is arbitrary; you could choose any year for the base, call it 100, and measure purchasing power from that date.

That's what upsets Pick. Why 1958, he asks? Why not 1940, which he claims was the end of stability and the beginning of a long, sometimes interrupted, inflationary spiral.

Based on 1958, the dollar was worth 73.6 cents in July. But, based on 1940, the dollar was worth only 35.9 cents. In other words, the choosing of 1958 disguises about half the purchasing power lost since 1940.

The International Monetary

Fund also is criticized. That organization, he argues, "threw an even wider veil of oblivion over monetary expropriations by deciding that 1963 should be the basic year for measuring worldwide increases in the cost of living for more than a hundred countries."

Under the IMF method of computing, the dollar is worth 78.3 cents. "Despite the impact of these Washington-influenced techniques," wrote Pick, "the author will not hesitate to disregard them." The "logical" value of the dollar, he maintains, is less than one-half that and is heading toward 34 cents by the end of the year.

NEW SEAL of the postoffice depicts an eagle poised for flight, replacing the "Post Rider" seal used for 133 years, but some critics say the man on horseback still fits. Both are shown in Washington, resting on a desk used by Benjamin Franklin, first postmaster general.

Mayor's Report

By Mayor
Richard L. Gerhardt

During the last several months, it has become increasingly evident that there is a serious housing shortage in Circleville in all price ranges, but especially in middle to lower cost homes.

Although the City has issued a record number of building permits this year, mostly for homes in the high 20 and low 30 thousand dollar range, the demand for homes is still outpacing the supply.

This is not a problem unique to Circleville, but is a nationwide dilemma. It is interesting to note that one out of every four new dwelling units is a mobile home which vividly reflects the need for more moderate priced housing.

Further adding to the potential seriousness of the problem is that it was found in the Master Plan Neighborhood Analysis that only 55 percent of the residences in Circleville were in good condition and in need of no repairs.

More encouraging was the fact that of the remaining 45 percent of the residents, 32 percent were in need of only minor repairs, while the remaining ones were deteriorating or dilapidated.

More important, however, than the above recital of the problem, is what can be done to help eliminate the growing shortage before it becomes even more of a serious problem.

The housing shortage in higher priced homes as previously indicated, is being partially met by the increased building activity. However, moderate to low cost housing units are becoming increasingly short.

As a result of this development the Pickaway County Comprehensive Health Committee (the joint planning committee for all city and county health agencies) has designated housing as a county's most pressing health priority. In addition, the Pickaway County Community Action Organization has listed housing as a priority for last three years and has talked to the Farmer Home Administration about getting assistance for Pickaway County.

City Council, also having recognized the housing problem, last year passed a resolution of intent to join the County in a joint City-County housing agency. Such a joint agency could then assist by joining with private developers in building, selling and renting moderate to low cost housing units. At the present time the County Commissioners are considering the steps necessary to formulate the agency.

In an effort to keep existing housing in good condition for several years now, the City, under the supervision of the Fire Chief, has had a program of removal of seriously dilapidated homes. It can, however, never be fully effective to eliminate deterioration as is only when a home is in such bad condition as to be a potential fire hazard, can it be ordered to be torn down and removed.

The City presently has the means, however, to stop housing deterioration in the form of recently passed building, housing and fire prevention codes. Due to the financial situation of the City, however, Council has not authorized a Building Official to be hired to fully enforce these codes. With active enforcement of the codes, both the homeowner, tenant and the landlord are made responsible for maintaining safe, sanitary and healthy residents.

With the focus of attention increasing on the housing shortage and related problems, it is hoped that much can be done to eliminate a growing situation before it becomes a dangerously serious problem.

Miss Marilyn A. Younkin Bride Of Theodore Giese

MRS. THEODORE PAUL GIESE

The altar of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church in Ashville was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and palms placed before two seven branch candelabra for the marriage of Miss Marilyn Aldora Younkin and Mr. Theodore Paul Giese.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delano D. Younkin of Ashville and the bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Henry E. Giese, Route 2, Ashville. The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Giese, the groom's father, 2:30 p.m. Aug. 2.

Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Marjorie Pickering, organist, and Mr. Martin Younkin, vocalist, twin brother of the bride.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta. The scalloped neckline accented with seed pearls and the fitted bodice featuring long sleeves with tiny buttons tapering to points over the hands were made of re-embroidered Chantilly lace. The chapel length train flowed softly from the empire waistline. Applied lace motifs with seed pearls were scattered on the train. The bride's shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a re-embroidered lace motif made into a crown. Her bouquet of gardenias and lily of the valley was carried atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Harold Bickel of Pickerington served as matron of honor for her sister and Miss Rutha Giese, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. They were attired in light blue satin with matching lace covering the bodice, and long sleeves. Their bouquets were cascades of white daisy pompons and pink carnations. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald Younkin and Mrs. Donald Younkin, sisters-in-law of the bride, were dressed identically to the honor attendants in Nassau blue satin. Their bouquets were similar to the other attendants and they all wore headpieces fashioned of a daisy and pink carnation tufts interspersed with baby's breath.

Flower girls, Miss Kimberly Younkin and Miss Tamara Younkin, nieces of the bride, were in Nassau blue satin gowns matching those of the attendants. Master Jay Eric Bickel, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Performing the duties of best man was Mr. William Giese, brother of the groom. Mr. James Giese, Mr. Donald Younkin and Mr. Ronald Younkin were ushers. Mr. Glenn Gulick presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Younkin greeted the guests in a dress of pink shantung with white accessories. Mrs. Giese wore a navy dotted Swiss dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

A reception in the Parish Hall followed the ceremony where the wedding party was greeted by friends, relatives and members of the congregation. The bride and groom stood under an arch of greenery with white doves and wedding bells when they cut their four-tiered wedding cake.

The couple honeymooned in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. For the trip, the bride wore an aqua knit dress pinned with the gardenia corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple now resides at Route 2, Ashville.

The new Mrs. Giese attended Nationwide Beauty School and is employed at Dulcies Beauty Salon, Columbus. Mr. Giese is a graduate of Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, and is employed by the Container Corporation in Circleville.

Forrest Short To Be Honored At State Fair

Forrest A. Short of Circleville, 76-year-old former Pickaway auditor-turned-horse trainer, will be honored during the 1970 Ohio State Fair. Trophies, racing silks and other mementos accumulated by "Mr." Short during his 24 years in the sulky will be on display at the Ohio Harness Racing Museum throughout the State Fair, August 27 - September 7.

FORREST SHORT

The Circleville citizen was a late starter in the standardbred sport, although horses have been part of Mr. Short's life since he first learned to ride back in 1898. Forrest, and younger brother Harry (age 74), helped their father in the buying, selling, trading and transporting of all kinds of horses throughout their early years.

From 1935 to 1947 Mr. Short served as county auditor of Pickaway County. When he left office in 1947 he decided to become a full-time livestock farmer, but his kid brother changed all this. Harry Short, who was campaigning a public stable at the major parimutuel tracks, sent Forrest a couple of pacers who weren't even good enough to qualify. The elder brother's task was to get the pair ready for his younger brother to race later that season at the Ohio county fairs.

However, Forrest couldn't see the point of just training them, so he began to race the two pacers at the fairs. Daughter Sara, who is an employee of the U.S. Trotting Association, remembers that first year: "Mother and I followed daddy all over the state. In those days there would be 14 or 15 horses in each race and we used to say to daddy, 'Just don't finish last.'"

WHEN Short finally won his first race, at Old Washington, none of his family was present — and furthermore they wouldn't believe him. The fact is, both of his horses won that night and Mr. Short had to show his wife and daughter the newspaper report as proof.

In 1949 Short really got involved with the sport on a full-time basis. He became a regular at Hilliards Raceway, the former Columbus track, Northfield Park, and the county fair circuit. The fall Grand Circuit meeting at Lexington, Kentucky, was a highlight each season for the Short Stable — which usually numbered about 20 head.

During his career the U.S. Trotting Association lists the Opportunity Teays Valley '11' Stresses To Play Golf Powerful Running Attack Declining

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're one of those frustrated souls who must queue up before dawn on weekends to get in a round of golf, you can get no solace from the president of the American Society of Golf Course Architects.

"Although we figure the number of courses in this country have doubled in the last 10 years, from 5,000 to 10,000," says E. L. Packard of Chicago, "there is a declining opportunity to play golf."

"Whereas a few years ago there was one golf course for every 27,000 people in the United States, today there is one course for every 29,000."

Packard was in New York over the week-end to confer with other members of his society on the problems of golf course architecture.

"The demand is greater than ever—more and more people are taking up the game," he said. "But conditions prevent a rate of construction to match the explosion."

Money is tight. Real estate is at a premium. Big housing and suburban business developments are getting priority.

Girls Enter 'Auto Race'

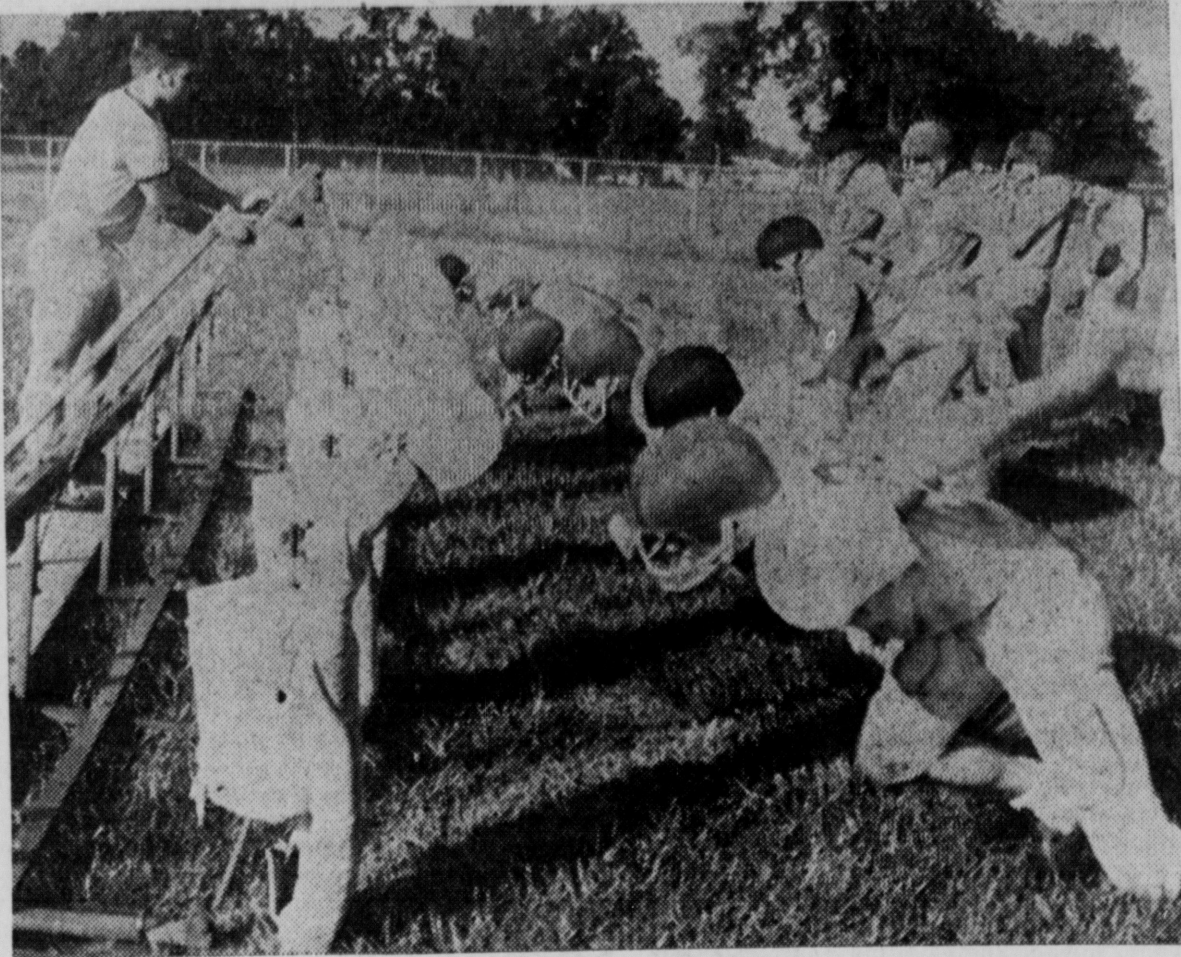

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Indiana coeds enter a cross-country automobile race next week more interested in clean air than in women's liberation.

Cheryl Williams and Lydia Summers of Bedford, Ind., are out to show that their propane gas-powered car is so simple and practical "even two girls can drive it."

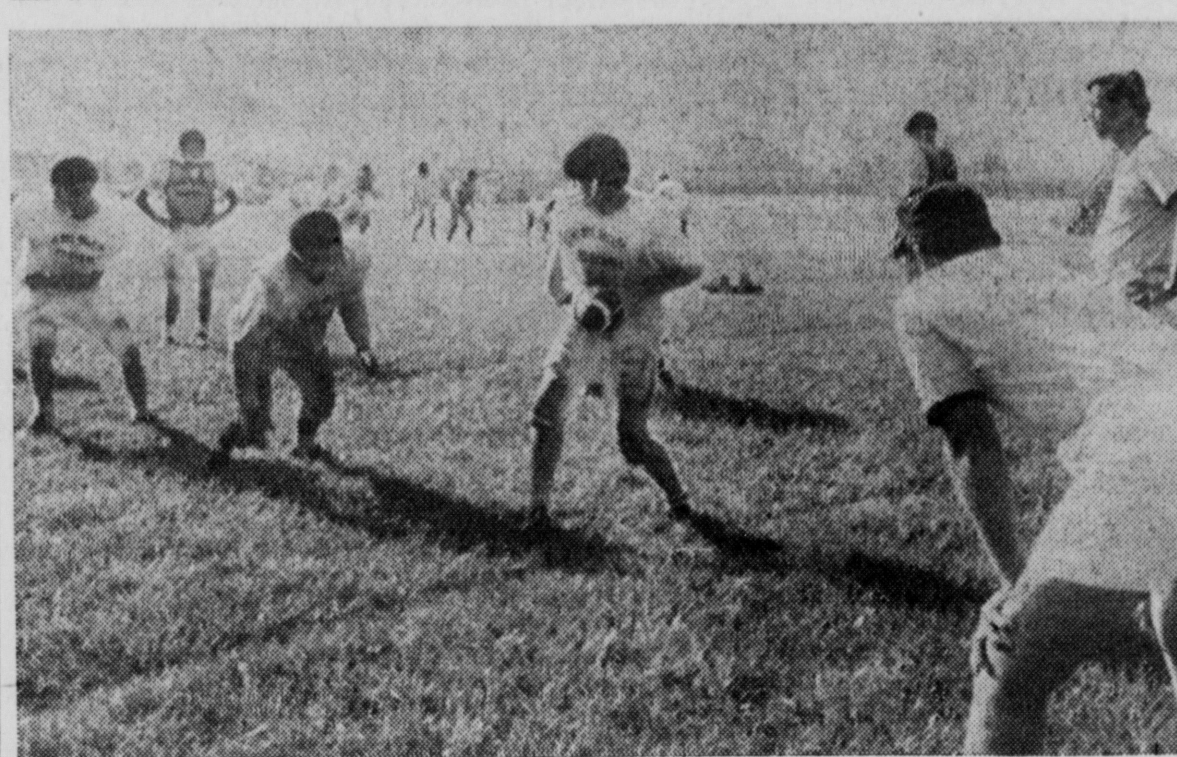

The girls will be the only All-Girl entry among 50 student teams competing in the 3,600-mile Clean Air Car Race to test and publicize low-pollution alternatives to the gasoline-powered internal combustion engine. The race begins Monday at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and concludes Aug. 30 at the Caltech campus in Pasadena, Calif.

Some of the student teams in the race built their own entries, but the 1969 Oldsmobile that the girls will drive was converted by engineers at the Borg-Warner Corporation's Marvel-Schebler Division and is sponsored by Benjamin Bruner, a Bedford, Ind., engineering manufacturer.

Cheryl, 20, and a senior psychology major at the University of Evansville, is the team captain. Lydia, 21, is a senior nursing student at Purdue University. The two are long-time friends, but admit their mechanical knowledge is limited to changing tires and oil.

VIKINGS READY — Teays Valley Viking assistant football coach, Roger Patterson, ready for the impact of the 1970 Viking line. Teays Valley sports a smaller but more spirited line this fall combining experience with skill. Coach Dick Kidwell feels that they're one of the hardest hitting groups in the league. With the backfield concentrating on their running game the TV line will have their work cut out for them this season.

TV ON THE MOVE — With head Teays Valley coach, Dick Kidwell, and assistant mentor, Bill Lewis, watching, the varsity Viking backfield runs plays off their Power I formation. The Metropolitan league players sport one of the biggest backfields in the league with quickness one of their biggest assets. Lacking depth, the Vikings will romp this season if they can stay healthy.

They passed out the pads and the cleats to 50 candidates at Teays Valley High School and the young men are busy putting them to use on the practice field.

Coach Dick Kidwell and his staff are preparing the grid hopefuls for the coming season and are quite high on their prospects.

"Depth at most positions is our main concern at the present time," Kidwell stated, "but we expect to get some help from the large number of aspirants who have turned out."

The Vikings lost 19 lettermen from last year's squad and must build around the 11 returning veterans.

"WE have some good prospects in the group" Kidwell offered, "and they are a hard working bunch. If we can get off to a good start and gain some confidence we will be able to give a good account of ourselves," he added.

A strong running game appears to be the main factor in the Viking offense. They have the entire backfield back from last year and if they stay healthy they will be something to deal with.

With either Stan Clay or Scott Barr operating from the quarterback slot; all league Bob Tucker, 6-foot 185-pound, at the halfback spot; Ron Crosby, 175-pound, at fullback; and Champ Henson, 6-foot 4-inch 200-pound, moving from the tailback position the Vikings will run with power.

Operating from a Power I offense with traps, sweeps and off tackle smashes they should be able to move the football. The Vikings will go to the air if need be but will have to be considered a running club.

At the present time the offense seems to be ahead of the defense but the defenders of the goal line are beginning to shape up. They will operate from a 5-2 defense with stunting variations.

"We expect our defense to be quick and mobile," Kidwell said, "and Jack Brinker, the only junior in the starting unit, is 6-foot 220-pounds and will give us strength in the line."

A TRANSFER senior from Vinton County, Dave Makarius is expected to be a solid backup man for Tucker at the halfback slot.

Steve Hines and Jeff Helser backed up by Roy Good and Dick Garren give the Vikings strength and depth at the end positions.

Bob Browning will handle the tackle job with Brinker and newcomer to the squad, John Glick, improving with each practice and shows signs of being a solid backup man.

Chuck Frazier, all league honorable mention last year and a fine trapping guard, will be at one spot and Rob Archer will handle the other guard slot. Jim Logan and Terry McDaniels will serve behind Frazier and Archer.

Keith Archer has been moved from his backfield position and takes over the center duties. Randy Smith, injured and out of action for a couple of weeks, and sophomore Steve Thompson

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former University of Kentucky All America quarterback Rick Norton was placed on waivers Friday by the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League after one week.

Norton, picked up by Cincinnati from the Miami Dolphins, had trouble passing, officials said.

Scioto Downs Sets Dream Pace For Saturday Night

With just twenty-one nights remaining in the 1970 season at Scioto Downs, the plush suburban Columbus harness racing spa has put together its finest program to date.

In Saturday night's $6,000 Invitational Handicap Pace, last week's 1:59 2-5 winner, Direct Sammy, meets the direct champion pacer mare Miss Conna Adios, the two minute mare Shiaway Vancy, and the 2:00 2-5 sizzler Scotch Baron, plus the pacer star from the Gene Riegler stable, Robert E. Adios, and the son of Overtrack to be reined by Curly Smart, Leander Lobell.

Saturday night's featured pacer event promises to be the "dream pace" of the year. One look at the impressive lineup and the track handicapper went into hiding, and promised not to come out until after the race.

This race has attracted pacing champions from every corner of the country, and Director of Racing John Phillips calls this the "best overnight feature I have ever put together."

ROBERT E. Adios, the aged pacing star of the Gene Riegler stable, returns to Scioto after taking a new lifetime record of 1:59 at Sportsman's Park. Owned by Dale and Floyd Miller of Archbold, Ohio, Robert E. Adios scored in two minutes even at Scioto earlier in the summer.

The great Leander Lobell, owned by the Gotham Stable of New York, moves into Scioto Saturday, and for the first time this year will have the driving services of the man who guided him. Curly Smart who guided this son of Overtrack to a 2 yr-old record of 1:58 3-5 will see if he can get the sophomore back to his winning ways. After taking a pair of early races at New York, Leander Lobell is on a seven race losing streak. But he doesn't have to apologize for any of the losses. He has finished behind Columbia George in 1:56 2-5 at Vernon Downs and 1:58 at Monticello Raceway.

The World Champion pacer mare, Miss Conna Adios, makes her second start at Scioto this week. Last week she finished third behind a supreme effort by Direct Sammy in 1:59 2-5.

Earlier this year, the daughter of Adios Senator, owned and driven by Frank Milby of Cordova, Maryland, set the national season record with a mile in 1:58. Last year the chance mare set the World Record standard with a mile in 1:57 4-5 at Liberty Bell Park.

Direct Sammy, owned by Marion Radabaugh of Montgomery, Ohio, has posted two miles in 1:59 4-5 and 1:59 2-5 for driver Jim Hackett this year at Scioto, and the mare Shiaway Vancy owns a mark of 2:09 at Scioto. Scotch Baron who won in 2:00 2-5 at Sportsman's Park in Chicago will be driven by the talented Joe Franklin.

Ross County native with 366 victories and $242,939. His best season was in 1960 when he made 160 starts with 46 firsts, 35 seconds and 23 thirds. That year he earned a Universal Driver Rating Average of 358 — good for 11th place nationally. Also, in 1960, Forrest captured the dash winning championship at Scioto Downs.

Among Short's favorite horses have been Jerry Way, a heat winner in the 1960 Grandview Futurity at Northfield Park and a starter in the Little Brown Jug; Irish Blackstone, Campaign County Futurity winner at Urbana and also a heat winner of the Grandview - Ohio Futurity over Mitze Eden, dam of Columbia George, the 1970 3-year-old pacing sensation; Royal J. Win, upset winner of the inaugural Scarlet & Gray Cup at Scioto Downs in 1961. In this race Short only entered Royal J. Win because the track paid five monies and there were only five starters. Later a sixth horse was entered and the former bookkeeper figured his horse would be lucky to win any of the purse. Royal J. Win returned $60.40 to win.

Mr. Short also trained the outstanding pacer Berrymite, who later took a 2:00 race record; trained the double-gaited world champion Steamin Demon for two years including 1958 when he was voted "Ohio Horse of the Year"; and in 1959 scored with the trotter Raider Volo in the first race ever held at Scioto Downs.

The pacing mares Jeritta Win and Cissy T. Adios also rank among Short's all-time favorites. Jeritta Win time trialed at Lexington in 2:00.4 and Cissy T. Adios, who won 10 out of 16 starts last season, was second in a four-horse photo in 2:00 earlier this summer at Scioto Downs.

This year Forrest is training 10 horses, commuting from his Pickaway County home — round trip of 36 miles — and he wouldn't have it any other way. "I have been in this business for 24 years. I enjoy it and expect to remain in it as long as I feel good physically and can give a good account of myself on the race track."

Opportunity To Play Golf Declining

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're one of those frustrated souls who must queue up before dawn on weekends to get in a round of golf, you can get no solace from the president of the American Society of Golf Course Architects.

"Although we figure the number of courses in this country have doubled in the last 10 years, from 5,000 to 10,000," says E. L. Packard of Chicago, "there is a declining opportunity to play golf."

"Whereas a few years ago there was one golf course for every 27,000 people in the United States, today there is one course for every 29,000."

Packard was in New York over the week-end to confer with other members of his society on the problems of golf course architecture.

"The demand is greater than ever—more and more people are taking up the game," he said. "But conditions prevent a rate of construction to match the explosion."

Money is tight. Real estate is at a premium. Big housing and suburban business developments are getting priority.

Girls Enter 'Auto Race'

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Indiana coeds enter a cross-country automobile race next week more interested in clean air than in women's liberation.

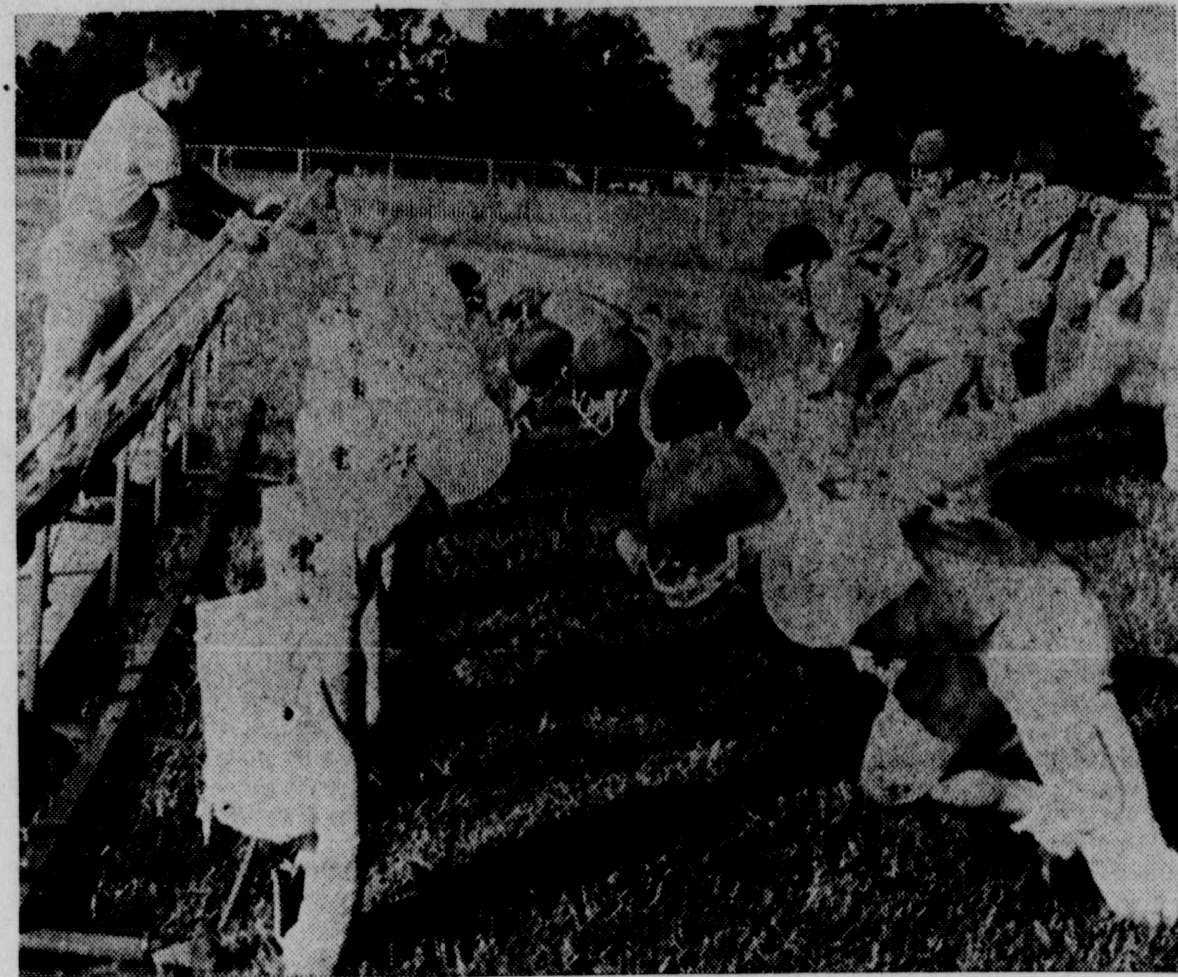

Cheryl Williams and Lydia Summers of Bedford, Ind., are out to show that their propane gas-powered car is so simple and practical "even two girls can drive it."

The girls will be the only All-Girl entry among 50 student teams competing in the 3,600-mile Clean Air Car Race to test and publicize low-pollution alternatives to the gasoline-powered internal combustion engine. The race begins Monday at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and concludes Aug. 30 at the Caltech campus in Pasadena, Calif.

Some of the student teams in the race built their own entries, but the 1969 Oldsmobile that the girls will drive was converted by engineers at the Borg-Warner Corporation's Marvel-Schebler Division and is sponsored by Benjamin Bruner, a Bedford, Ind., engineering manufacturer.

Cheryl, 20 and a senior psychology major at the University of Evansville, is the team captain. Lydia, 21, is a senior nursing student at Purdue University. The two are long-time friends, but admit their mechanical knowledge is limited to changing tires and oil.

Teays Valley '11' Stresses Powerful Running Attack

VIKINGS READY — Teays Valley Viking assistant football coach, Roger Patterson, ready for the impact of the 1970 Viking line. Teays Valley sports a smaller but more spirited line this fall combining experience with skill. Coach Dick Kidwell feels that they're one of the hardest hitting groups in the league. With the backfield concentrating on their running game the TV line will have their work cut out for them this season.

TV ON THE MOVE — With head Teays Valley coach, Dick Kidwell, and assistant mentor, Bill Lewis, watching, the varsity Viking backfield runs plays off their Power I formation. The Metropolitan league players sport one of the biggest backfields in the league with quickness one of their biggest assets. Lacking depth, the Vikings will romp this season if they can stay healthy.

They passed out the pads and the cleats to 50 candidates at Teays Valley High School and the young men are busy putting them to use on the practice field.

Coach Dick Kidwell and his staff are preparing the grid hopefuls for the coming season and are quite high on their prospects.

"Depth at most positions is our main concern at the present time," Kidwell stated, "but we expect to get some help from the large number of aspirants who have turned out."

The Vikings lost 19 lettermen from last year's squad and must build around the 11 returning veterans.

"WE have some good prospects in the group" Kidwell offered, "and they are a hard working bunch. If we can get off to a good start and gain some confidence we will be able to give a good account of ourselves," he added.

A strong running game appears to be the main factor in the Viking offense. They have the entire backfield back from last year and if they stay healthy they will be something to deal with.

With either Stan Clay or Scott Barr operating from the quarterback slot; all league Bob Tucker, 6-foot 185-pound, at the halfback spot; Ron Crosby, 175-pound, at fullback; and Champ Henson, 6-foot 4-inch 200-pound, moving from the tailback position the Vikings will run with power.

Operating from a Power I offense with traps, sweeps and off tackle smashes they should be able to move the football. The Vikings will go to the air if need be but will have to be considered a running club.

At the present time the offense seems to be ahead of the defense but the defenders of the goal line are beginning to shape up. They will operate from a 5-2 defense with stunting variations.

"We expect our defense to be quick and mobile," Kidwell said, "and Jack Brinker, the only junior in the starting unit, is 6-foot 220-pounds and will give us strength in the line."

A TRANSFER senior from Vinton County, Dave Makarius is expected to be a solid backup man for Tucker at the halfback slot.

Steve Hines and Jeff Helsner backed up by Roy Good and Dick Garren give the Vikings strength and depth at the end positions.

Bob Browning will handle the tackle job with Brinker and newcomer to the squad, John Glick, improving with each practice and shows signs of being a solid backup man.

Chuck Frazier, all league honorable mention last year and a fine trapping guard, will be at one spot and Rob Archer will handle the other guard slot. Jim Logan and Terry McDaniels will serve behind Frazier and Archer.

Keith Archer has been moved from his backfield position and takes over the center duties. Randy Smith, injured and out of action for a couple of weeks, and sophomore Steve Thompson will act as reserves at the pivot slot.

The Vikings, members of the Metropolitan League, feel that West Jefferson is the team to beat for the league crown. The Rough Riders have most of last year's championship squad back and have to be considered the strength in the league.

"WE meet West Jeff in our fifth game," Kidwell offered, "and if we can stay away from injuries and get a couple of wins under our belts we could surprise them."

Teays Valley opens its season Sept. 11 hosting Bishop Werle and travels to Circleville Sept. 18 to meet the Tigers. Sept. 25 finds them at Logan Elm, at Franklin Heights on Oct. 2 and home on Oct. 9 for the big battle with West Jefferson.

They host Hamilton Township on Oct. 16, travel to Dublin on Oct. 23, host Olentangy on Oct. 30 and finish the season at Washington C. H. on Nov. 6.

Sailor Breaks

High Power Mark

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Navy P02C Thomas Treinen of Annapolis, Md., broke a 31-year-old record Friday in capturing the Wimbledon Cup event in the national high power rifle championships here.

Treinen fired a perfect score of 100 points and placed 32 of his shots in the small V-ring inside the bulls-eye. The old record was 100-2TV, set in 1939 by Marine Pfc. A.J. Wolders.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former University of Kentucky All America quarterback Rick Norton was placed on waivers Friday by the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League after one week.

Norton, picked up by Cincinnati from the Miami Dolphins, had trouble passing, officials said.

Scioto Downs Sets Dream Pace For Saturday Night

With just twenty-one nights remaining in the 1970 season at Scioto Downs, the plush suburban Columbus harness racing spa has put together its finest program to date.

In Saturday night's $6,000 Invitational Handicap Pace, last week's 1:59 2-5 winner, Direct Sammy, meets the world champion pacing mare Miss Conna Adios, the two minute mare Shaiway Vancy, and the 2:00 2-5 sizzler Scotch Baron, plus the pacing star from the Gene Riegler stable, Robert E. Adios, and the son of Overtrick to be reined by Curly Smart, Leander Lobell.

Saturday night's featured pacing event promises to be the "dream pace" of the year. One look at the impressive lineup and the track handicapper went into hiding, and promised not to come out until after the race.

This race has attracted pacing champions from every corner of the country, and Director of Racing John Phillips calls this the "best overnight feature I have ever put together."

ROBERT E. Adios, the aged pacing star of the Gene Riegler stable, returns to Scioto after taking a new lifetime record of 1:59 at Sportsman's Park. Owned by Dale and Floyd Miller of Archbold, Ohio, Robert E. Adios scored in two minutes even at Scioto earlier in the summer.

The great Leander Lobell, owned by the Gotham Stable of New York, moves into Scioto Saturday, and for the first time this year will have the driving services of the man who made him. Curly Smart who guided this son of Overtrick to a 2 yr-old record of 1:58 3-5 will see if he can get the sophomore back to his winning ways. After taking a pair of early races in New York, Leander Lobell is on a seven race losing streak. But he doesn't have to apologize for any of the losses. He has finished behind Columbia George in 1:56 2-5 at Vernon Downs and 1:58 at Monticello Raceway.

The World Champion pacing mare, Miss Conna Adios, makes her second start at Scioto this week. Last week she finished third behind a supreme effort by Direct Sammy in 1:59 2-5. Earlier this year, the daughter of Adios Senator, owned and driven by Frank Milby of Cordova, Maryland, set the national season record with a mile in 1:58. Last year the Chancy mare set the World Record standard with a mile in 1:57 4-5 at Liberty Bell Park. Direct Sammy, owned by Marion Radabaugh of Montgomery, Ohio, has posted two miles in 1:59 4-5 and 1:59 2-5 for driver Jim Hackett this year at Scioto, and the mare Shaiway Vancy owns a mark of 2:09 at Sci

"THE MAN" OF PRO FOOTBALL—Outstanding coach in pro football, Vince Lombardi is seen in typical poses, yesterday and today. Lombardi, now recuperating from a second operation in Washington, was born in Brooklyn, June 11, 1913, and played at St. Francis Prep and Fordham University. He was one of the "Seven Blocks of Granite" at Fordham. Lombardi turned to coaching, first at St. Cecilia High at Englewood, N.J., then as an assistant at Fordham and Army and became assistant coach of the New York Giants in 1954. He was made head coach of Green Bay in 1959 and after a year's retirement in 1968, returned to coach the Washington Redskins. At Green Bay he won six titles, two Super Bowl victories.

Cowboy Prospects Good, But Minor Changes Planned

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys enter the 1970 season with the same old albatross stuffed in their equipment bag—speed, brawn, depth and a swelling of the Adam's apple in the big games.

"Nobody is going to love us until we win the Super Bowl," says Head Coach Tom Landry.

And Landry should know. Despite piloting his team to an 11-2-1 season last year, the Cowboys again folded on him like a lawn chair in the Eastern Conference playoff of the National Football League against Cleveland.

Dole Raps Lobbying Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing a campaign by senators opposed to the Vietnam war, Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., said Friday he will seek to bar members of Congress from pressuring colleagues through advertising.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Dole said he will try to amend a 1946 act regulating lobbying to include congressmen who solicit funds to bring pressure on their House and Senate colleagues.

The amendment is based on activities on behalf of the McGovern-Hatfield proposal to force withdrawal of U.S. forces from Indochina by the end of 1971.

"Is it proper for a senator to seek to influence other senators by drumming up outside pressure on them, or by seeking to influence them himself while acting in the dual capacities of senator and lobbyist?" Dole asked.

He said senators involved in the activities of the Amendment-to-End-the-War Committee have solicited and collected contributions whose main purpose has been to influence the vote on the amendment.

While not contending any violation of law by his colleagues, Dole said there is no doubt sponsors of the amendment have broken new ground in the field of lobbying. And he said the practice may endanger the Senate.

That makes four years in a row it's happened. Twice the Cowboys narrowly lost the NFL championship to Green Bay and twice they dropped the big one to the Browns.

Landry hasn't panicked. "You can't make major changes in a team that won so many games," he says. "We are going to make a series of small changes throughout our football team."

One of Landry's changes include moving All-Pro offensive tackle Ralph Neely to offensive guard where the Cowboys need more height and left and slipping in towering Rayfield Wright into Neely's old post.

Another concerns the leaky right cornerback spot which Mel Renfro, the NFL's leading pass thief at weak safety last year, will permanently anchor. Veteran Dave Whitsett was obtained from New Orleans to roam at Renfro's old free safety spot.

"Our No. 1 objective is to strengthen our pass defense," says Landry, who realizes it was the soft underbelly of the Cowboy team in 1969.

Other changes include putting flanker Lance Rentzel in the backfield and sending him in motion to give defensive backs even more trouble trying to cope with Rentzel and Bob Hayes and letting Rookie of the Year Calvin Hill carry the ball more.

The quarterback job is developing into a hot duel between Craig Morton and Roger Staubach. Landry is expected to give Morton, who is showing signs of full recovery from a shoulder separation in 1969, the nod as the starter.

Steady Walt Garrison will start at fullback to round out Dallas' offense, the best in the NFL last year.

Split-end Bob Hayes, who is in a salary dispute with the Cowboys, is playing out his option. He is being strongly challenged by Canadian football veteran Margene Adkins.

Other offensive line regulars should be center Malcolm Walker, guards John Noland and John Wilbur and tackle Tony Liscio.

Defensively, Dallas has one of the NFL's best front four with ends Larry Cole and George Andrie and tackles Bob Lilly and Jethro Pugh.

1943 Bomber Wreckage Found

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (AP) — A Lutheran missionary has found the wreckage of a World War II American bomber with four skeletons in it on Mt. Schrader about 120 miles west of Madang, Australian officials said Friday.

The Rev. Davis Schendall discovered the wreckage while traveling on foot through the rugged mountain area near the north coast of the New Guinea trust territory. He found identification tags among the skeletons, and Australian officials are now assembling information on the plane and its occupants to forward to Washington.

The plane is believed to have crashed in 1943, officials said.

Koosman, Mets Stop Cincinnati Reds, 4-1

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the driver's seat for a change, New York Mets' left-hander Jerry Koosman pulled back on the throttle and switched gears to perfection, steering the Big Red Machine into a temporary skid.

Koosman, a 17-game winner last year and winner of two World Series games for the world champion Mets, completed his first start since June 25th, stalling the Cincinnati

Reds on seven hits in New York's 4-1 triumph Friday night. It was the Reds' third straight loss and their West lead dwindled to a still-fat 10 games over Los Angeles.

Claude Osteen of the Dodgers won his fourth straight over Pittsburgh at home, stopping the Pirates 2-1 on a seven-hitter, sending the Mets to within 1½ games of the East Division-leading Pirates.

In other National League games, San Francisco trimmed Chicago 5-1, Montreal tripped

Atlanta 6-4, St. Louis trounced San Diego 14-8 and Philadelphia and Houston split a doubleheader, the Phillies winning the opener 9-3 and the Astros the nightcap 9-1.

Koosman, 8-6, but plagued by a sore arm said, "My arm feels good. I was changing speeds off my curve very well. When I reached back for the fast ball occasionally, it was there."

The run off Koosman was unearned when Bud Harrelson booted a fourth inning grounder, his second error of the game, ending a record-tying 54 games of errorless ball by the Mets' shortstop, Dave Marshall keyed two Mets' rallies with a single and double, helping the Reds' to their third straight loss.

Osteen, 13-11, had a run of 46 scoreless innings against Pittsburgh at Dodger Stadium before the Pirates got a fifth-inning run on successive two-out singles by Matty Alou, Dave Cash and Roberto Clemente.

The Cubs missed a chance to pick up ground on the Pirates but still remain only four games back in third place as they fell to Giants' right-hander Frank Reberger's six-hitter.

San Francisco pounded out 10 hits and all five runs in 5-2-3 innings off Chicago starter Bill Hands, 14-11. Willie McCovey drove in one run and scored another for the Giants.

The Expos rolled to their fourth straight triumph behind the home-run hitting of Bob Taylor, Rusty Staub and John Bateley. Carl Morton, who needed eighth-inning relief help, picked up his 15th victory. Clete Boyer and Bob Tillman homered for the Braves while Hank Aaron had a pair of RBIs, sending the right-fielder into eighth place on the all-time list with 1,329.

The Cardinals exploded for 15 hits, getting three apiece from winning pitcher Nelson Briles and Lou Brock and a homer and single by Joe Torre in belting the Padres.

Don Wilson tossed a three-hitter for the Astros in the nightcap with Jim Wynn connecting for a homer while Jim Bunning took the opener for the Phils, scattering 10 hits as Don Money slugged a three-run homer.

Minnesota Stops Senators, 4-3

By DICK COUCH

Tom Teschinski wriggled off Bill Rigney's hook, Reggie Smith shagged Wally Bunker's line and Ken Berry swallowed Ron Klimkowski's sinker.

The three fishermen figure they've never had it so good.

Teschinski, Minnesota's light-hitting reserve catcher, smacked his first major league home run Friday night—before manager Rigney could pull him out of the lineup—to give the Twins a 4-3 victory over Washington.

Smith's 19th homer ruined Bunker's bid for his first pitching victory of the season, but the luckless Kansas City right-hander twirled three-hit ball for 11 innings before the Royals nipped Boston 2-1 on Bob Oliver's bases-loaded single in the 12th.

Klimkowski, a rookie relief specialist, got three outs on two pitches to Berry, nipping a Chicago rally and helping the New York Yankees down the White Sox 4-2.

In other American League games, Baltimore blanked California 5-0 as Dave McNally became the first 19-game winner in the majors; Cleveland trimmed Oakland 6-3 for Sam McDowell's 18th victory and Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-4.

With George Mitterwald, Minnesota's regular catcher, meeting a military reserve commitment, Teschinski, a .171 hitter, was pressed into a starting role. He went out in his first two trips to the plate, then hammered the tie-breaking homer off Casey Cox in the seventh inning. It was his first extra-base hit of this season.

"Do you know what I was thinking all the time?" said Rigney. "I was looking for a spot to lift him for a pinch-hitter."

Bunker, winless in seven decisions, shackled the Red Sox on two scattered hits after Smith's fourth-inning homer but was in the Kansas City clubhouse when Oliver's bloop single in the 12th scored Amos Otis to break up the overtime struggle.

"That was the best game I've ever pitched in my life," he injured-plagued veteran said. "And that includes 1964, when I won 19 games for Baltimore. I'm happy even if I didn't get the win. This proves I'm ready to go."

Yanks' rookie Steve Kline took a 4-1 lead into the sixth inning at Chicago but was yanked after Bill Melton's leadoff homer and singles by Ed Herrmann and Syd O'Brien.

Klimkowski came out of the bullpen and on his first pitch, Berry missed a bunt attempt

One of Landry's changes include moving All-Pro offensive tackle Ralph Neely to offensive guard where the Cowboys need more height and heft and slipping in towering Rayfield Wright into Neely's old post.

Another concerns the leaky right cornerback spot which Mel Renfro, the NFL's leading pass thief at weak safety last year, will permanently anchor. Veteran Dave Whitsett was obtained from New Orleans to roam at Renfro's old free safety spot.

"Our No. 1 objective is to strengthen our pass defense," says Landry, who realizes it was the soft underbelly of the Cowboy team in 1969.

Other changes include putting flanker Lance Rentzel in the backfield and sending him in motion to give defensive backs even more trouble trying to cope with Rentzel and Bob Hayes and letting Rookie of the

1943 Bomber Wreckage Found

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (AP) — A Lutheran missionary has found the wreckage of a World War II American bomber with four skeletons in it on Mt. Schrader about 120 miles west of Madang, Australian officials said Friday.

The Rev. Davis Schendall discovered the wreckage while traveling on foot through the rugged mountain area near the north coast of the New Guinea trust territory. He found identification tags among the skeletons, and Australian officials are now assembling information on the plane and its occupants to forward to Washington.

The plane is believed to have crashed in 1943, officials said.

Year Calvin Hill carry the ball more.

The quarterback job is developing into a hot duel between Craig Morton and Roger Staubach. Landry is expected to give Morton, who is showing signs of full recovery from a shoulder separation in 1969, the nod as the starter.

Steady Walt Garrison will start at fullback to round out Dallas' offense, the best in the NFL last year.

Split-end Bob Hayes, who is in a salary dispute with the Cowboys, is playing out his option. He is being strongly challenged by Canadian football veteran Margene Adkins.

Other offensive line regulars should be center Malcolm Walker, guards John Noland and John Wilbur and tackle Tony Liscio.

Defensively, Dallas has one of the NFL's best front four with ends Larry Cole and George Andrie and tackles Bob Lilly and Jethro Pugh.

Koosman, Mets Stop Cincinnati Reds, 4-1

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the driver's seat for a change, New York Mets' left-hander Jerry Koosman pulled back on the throttle and switched gears to perfection, steering the Big Red Machine into a temporary skid.

Koosman, a 17-game winner last year and winner of two World Series games for the world champion Mets, completed his first start since June 25th, stalling the Cincinnati

Reds on seven hits in New York's 4-1 triumph Friday night. It was the Reds' third straight loss and their West lead dwindled to a still-fat 10 games over Los Angeles.

Claude Osteen of the Dodgers won his fourth straight over Pittsburgh at home, stopping the Pirates 2-1 on a seven-hitter, sending the Mets to within 1½ games of the East Division-leading Pirates.

In other National League games, San Francisco trimmed Chicago 5-1, Montreal tripped

Atlanta 6-4, St. Louis trounced San Diego 14-8 and Philadelphia and Houston split a doubleheader, the Phillies winning the opener 9-3 and the Astros the nightcap 9-1.

Koosman, 8-6, but plagued by a sore arm said, "My arm feels good. I was changing speeds off my curve very well. When I reached back for the fast ball occasionally, it was there."

The run off Koosman was unearned when Bud Harrelson booted a fourth inning grounder, his second error of the game, ending a record-tying 54 games of errorless ball by the Mets' shortstop, Dave Marshall keyed two Mets' rallies with a single and double, helping the Reds to their third straight loss.

Osteen, 13-11, had a run of 48 scoreless innings against Pittsburgh at Dodger Stadium before the Pirates got a fifth-inning run on successive two-out singles by Matty Alou, Dave Cash and Roberto Clemente.

The Cubs missed a chance to pick up ground on the Pirates but still remain only four games back in third place as they fell to Giants' right-hander Frank Reberger's six-hitter.

San Francisco pounded out 10 hits and all five runs in 5 2-3 innings off Chicago starter Bill Hands, 14-11. Willie McCovey drove in one run and scored another for the Giants.

The Expos rolled to their fourth straight triumph behind the home-run hitting of Bob Bailey, Rusty Staub and John Bate-man. Carl Morton, who needed eighth-inning relief help, picked up his 15th victory. Clete Boyer and Bob Tillman homered for the Braves while Hank Aaron, had a pair of RBIs, sending the right-fielder into eighth place on the all-time list with 1,329.

The Cardinals exploded for 15 hits, getting three apiece from winning pitcher Nelson Briles and Lou Brock and a homer and single by Joe Torre in belting the Padres.

Don Wilson tossed a three-hitter for the Astros in the nightcap with Jim Wynn connecting for a homer while Jim Bunning took the opener for the Phils, scattering 10 hits as Don Money slugged a three-run homer.

Minnesota Stops Senators, 4-3

By DICK COUCH

Tom Teschinski wriggled off Bill Rigney's hook, Reggie Smith shagged Wally Bunker's line and Ken Berry swallowed Ron Klimkowski's sinker.

The three fishermen figure they've never had it so good.

Teschinski, Minnesota's lightning reserve catcher, smacked his first major league home run Friday night—before manager Rigney could pull him out of the lineup—to give the Twins a 4-3 victory over Washington.

Smith's 19th homer ruined Bunker's bid for his first pitching victory of the season, but the luckless Kansas City right-hander twirled three-hit ball for 11 innings before the Royals nipped Boston 2-1 on Bob Oliver's bases-loaded single in the 12th.

Klimkowski, a rookie relief specialist, got three outs on two pitches to Berry, nipping a Chicago rally and helping the New York Yankees down the White Sox 4-2.

In other American League games, Baltimore blanked California 5-0 as Dave McNally became the first 19-game winner in the majors; Cleveland trimmed Oakland 6-3 for Sam McDowell's 18th victory and Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-4.

With George Mitterwald, Minnesota's regular catcher, meeting a military reserve commitment, Teschinski, a .171 hitter, was pressed into a starting role. He went out in his first two trips to the plate, then hammered the tie-breaking homer off Casey Cox in the seventh inning. It was his first extra-base hit of this season.

"Do you know what I was thinking all the time?" said Rigney. "I was looking for a spot to lift him for a pinch-hitter."

Bunker, winless in seven decisions, shackled the Red Sox on two scattered hits after Smith's fourth-inning homer but was in the Kansas City clubhouse when Oliver's bloop single in the 12th scored Amos Otis to break up the overtime struggle.

"That was the best game I've ever pitched in my life," the injury-plagued veteran said. "And that includes 1964, when I won 19 games for Baltimore. I'm happy even if I didn't get the win. This proves I'm ready to go."

Yanks' rookie Steve Kline took a 4-1 lead into the sixth inning at Chicago but was yanked after Bill Melton's leadoff homer and singles by Ed Herrmann and Syd O'Brien.

Klimkowski came out of the bullpen and on his first pitch, Berry missed a bunt attempt

NOTICE

On February 23, 1967, George E. Worstell, 100 per cent owner, Route 5, Lucasville, Ohio, tendered to the Federal Communications Commission an application to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1540 kc — 1 kilowatt power, daytime only at Circleville, Ohio. Circleville Broadcasting Company and Scioto Broadcasting Company have also filed applications for standard broadcast stations in the same area. After considering the applications, the Commission has determined that it is necessary to hold a hearing to decide the following questions:

1. To determine the areas and population which would receive primary service from the proposed operations and the availability of such areas and populations (1 mvm or greater in the case of FM).
 2. To determine the efforts made by George E. Worstell and Scioto Broadcasting Company to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicants propose to meet those needs and interests.
 3. To determine whether the transmitter site proposed by Scioto Broadcasting Company is satisfactory with particular regard to any conditions that may exist in the vicinity of the antenna system which would distort the proposed antenna radiation pattern.
 4. To determine whether George E. Worstell and Scioto Broadcasting Company are financially qualified to conduct and operate their proposed stations.
 5. To determine which of the proposals would, on a comparison basis, best serve the public interest.
 6. To determine, in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues which, if any, of the applications should be granted. The hearings will be held at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C. commencing at 10:00 a.m. on September 20, 1970. Members of the public who desire to give evidence concerning the foregoing issues should write to the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C. 20554 not later than August 30, 1970. Requests should set forth in detail the specific facts concerning which the writer wishes to give evidence. If the Commission believes that the evidence is legally competent, material, and relevant to the issues, it will contact the person in question.

NOTICE
On February 23, 1967, George E. Worstell, 100 per cent owner, Route 5, Lucasville, Ohio, tendered to the Federal Communications Commission an application to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1540 kc kilowatt power, daytime only at Circleville, Ohio. Circleville Broadcasting Company and Scioto Broadcasting Company have also filed applications for standard broadcast stations in the same area. After considering the applications, the Commission has determined that it is necessary to hold a hearing to decide the following questions:

1. To determine the areas and population which would receive primary service from the proposed operations and the availability of other primary aural service to such areas and populations (1 mv. or greater in case of FM).
2. To determine the efforts made by George E. Worstell and Scioto Broadcasting Company to ascertain the community needs and interests of the area to be served and the means by which the applicants propose to meet those needs and interests.
3. To determine whether the transmitter site proposed by Circleville Broadcasting Company is satisfactory with particular regard to any conditions that may exist in the vicinity of the antenna system which would distort the proposed antenna radiation pattern.
4. To determine whether George E. Worstell and Scioto Broadcasting Company are financially qualified to conduct and operate their proposed stations.
5. To determine which of the proposals would, on a comparison basis, best serve the public interest.
6. To determine, in light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues which, if any, of the applications should be granted.

The hearings will be held at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C. commencing at 10:00 a.m. on September 23, 1970. Members of the public who desire to give evidence concerning the foregoing issues should write to the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C. 20554 later than August 20, 1970. Letters should set forth in detail the specific facts concerning which the evidence is to be given. If the Commission believes that the evidence is legally competent, material, and relevant to the issues, it will contact the person in question.

New Ohio Historical Society Center Impressive

Awesome, impressive and spacious are words used to describe the New Ohio Historical Center to be dedicated and opened to the public 3 p.m. Sunday. It is that and a magnificent showplace, aesthetically functional.

Representatives of the press, radio and TV toured the board-formed concrete, multi-leveled building Friday afternoon with Daniel R. Porter, Ohio Historical Society director for a preview look at the $7.5 million structure.

The best of ideas from the best museums and archives libraries were incorporated in the design to afford a state historical facility to effectively house archives and display Ohio's memorabilia.

In addition to the one and one-half acres of exhibits the Center features a research center and fully-equipped laboratory for the restoration of manuscripts.

Natural life specimens will be exhibited under a freeze-dried technique of preservation. According to the Center director, the process provides an inexpensive and extremely precise method of preparing fragile animals and plants for use in exhibits. The process unit is the first of its kind in use by an Ohio museum.

No corner stone laying ceremonies will dedicate the new building. A specially-crafted titanium time capsule containing historical items pertaining to the center will be permanently deposited in the concrete floor of the Center's auditorium foyer. It will be capped by a bronze seal of the Ohio Historical Society.

Few exhibits will be completed by dedication day. Workmen Friday were busily laying the generous expanses of carpeting and placing displays in preparation for opening day.

According to the Center director, "no museum is ever completed," but a near-total program is expected to be completed in Spring, 1971.

Following the Sunday dedication, the Historical Center will be open to the public at no charge 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday; Sundays and holidays 1 - 5 p.m., and Wednesday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The library archives will be closed Sundays and holidays.

The center is located directly across from the State Fairgrounds on 17th Ave., Columbus, off Interstate 71.

C&O Span Is Toppled Into River

CINCINNATI (AP) — Crowds estimated at better than 10,000 lined both the Ohio and Kentucky banks of the Ohio River Friday as steel workers, using hydraulic jacks toppled one of three huge spans of the C & O bridge into the river 70 feet below.

Tug and boat whistles blared and the rush-hour crowds cheered as the 500-foot long, 1,400 ton structure rolled off the piers and thundered down.

The U.S. Coast Guard had blocked the busy river traffic between Cincinnati and Covington while work by the Allied Structural Steel Co. proceeded.

The giant span took about six seconds to fall and buckled when it struck the Ohio bank. Workmen proceeded to cut the steel into scrap and loaded it into barges. The two remaining spans will be dropped in late September.

The bridge was ordered closed by the Kentucky Highway Department in 1968 after declaring it hazardous. The ruling followed a meticulous inspection of all Ohio River bridges triggered by the collapse of the Silver Bridge between Point Pleasant, W. Va. and Kanawha, Ohio, killing 46 in December of 1967.

The C & O bridge will be replaced by a new three-lane structure scheduled for completion in 1972. Some of the old piers will be used. It will be built with federal, Kentucky and Ohio funds.

Typhoon Kills 15 During Sweep Across Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Anita, the most powerful typhoon to hit Japan so far this year, killed at least 15 persons in Western Japan and injured 222 others today. The weather bureau said the destructive storm might veer back across northern Japan.

Police said five persons were missing. 1,865 families were homeless and more than 45,000 houses were damaged or flooded.

After its death-dealing sweep across Shikoku, the main southern Japanese island, the storm moved into the Sea of Japan. The winds dropped from 111 to 73 miles per hour.

Heavy wind and rain on the fringe of the storm soaked Expo '70 in Osaka, 167 miles northwest of Anita's path, but officials said 249,260 had visited the Asian world's fair by noon.

Children Plan Carnival Against MD

A neighborhood carnival against muscular dystrophy will be held noon Tuesday at 507 N. Pickaway St.

Jerry Yeatts, son of Mrs. Hazel Yeatts, will serve as ringmaster assisted by Jackie Peters, Mark and Chrystal Stimpert, Paul Johnson and David Cook.

The carnival will feature such games as pot ball, fortune telling, marbles, tin target pie toss, penny pitch and food stand. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions.

The children got the idea for staging the event while watching TV personality Jerry Lewis, who is promoting carnivals on his Jerry Lewis Telethon children's show.

Last year in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, more than 20,000 carnivals were held by children across the country and over $353,000 was raised for MDA's research and patient service programs.

Living Costs Rise Again, But Slower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs posted the third straight monthly rise of four-tenths of one per cent in July. However, the government said today that, when seasonal factors were considered, it represented a slight easing of the nation's inflation.

Prince increases for food, transportation, medical care and some housing costs were the major factors in last month's rise that pushed the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index up to 135.7.

The figure means it took $13.57 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the July hike, on a seasonally adjusted basis, was three-tenths of one per cent. This was the same as the seasonal figure in June and was the smallest two-month rise in more than two years, on a seasonal basis.

The bureau also reported that average weekly earnings of approximately 45 million rank-and-file workers rose $1.02 to $121.07 per week. After adjustment for price increases, this represented a slight rise in purchasing power, but purchasing power was still nearly one per cent below a year earlier.

Consumer prices were 5.9 per cent above July of 1969, a slight drop in the 6 per cent rate of inflation that has prevailed for the past year and a half.

Food prices rose slightly more than seasonally in July, with larger increases for eggs, bakery and dairy products, the bureau said. Meats, poultry and fish rose less than usual for July, and vegetables declined.

Sales And Use Tax Receipts Decrease

Sales and use tax collections in Pickaway County fell 1.82 per cent for the two week period from Aug. 2 to Aug. 15.

Collections for the period were $17,719.33 compared to $18,049.32 collected for the similar period a year ago.

Collections for the fiscal year to date (July 1 through Aug. 15) are $59,950.57 compared to $55,759.78 for the similar period a year ago.

Motor vehicle and house trailer sales and use tax collections for the period Aug. 2 through Aug. 15 are $20,174.53, up 1,889.26 over collections of a year ago.

Collections for the fiscal year to date are $65,730.73 compared to $65,616.95 a year ago.

(Continued from Page 1) battle but added the comment that they would not be forbidden if military officials thought that a potential threat was posed to allied forces in Vietnam.

Informants said most American air strikes in Cambodia are centered east of the Mekong River in the northeastern part of the country against North Vietnamese supply routes running southward from Laos.

Meanwhile, Associated Press correspondent T. Jeff Williams reported from Phnom Penh that Cambodian forces had begun clearing operations northeast of the capital. Reports from Phnom Penh said three Viet Cong battalions—perhaps up to 1,000 troops or more—apparently had slipped away.

Maj. Am Rong, the Cambodian military spokesman, said several air strikes were carried out against suspected Viet Cong base areas near Prek Tameak, nine miles northeast of Phnom Penh. He did not specify whose airplanes conducted the latest strikes.

"There are no boundaries for American bombers in Cambodia," said one source. "If we felt interdiction of enemy forces would secure our positions in the event enemy forces became a potential threat to Vietnam, we would hit where we had to."

"Whenever possible, Cambodian and South Vietnamese planes are hitting as many targets as they can reach and handle. When they need help, the U.S. Air Force goes."

Meanwhile, ground action continued in a lull in South Vietnam with only small clashes reported.

South Vietnamese headquarters in Saigon announced the closeout of a 10-day operation inside Cambodia and claimed 47 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers killed and 41 rifles captured. South Vietnamese losses were reported as 15 killed and 78 wounded.

Find Skeletons Of 5 Soldiers

KHAM DUC, Vietnam (AP) — Searchers have uncovered five skeletons believed to be those of American soldiers who died while providing rear guard protection for the evacuation of a U.S. Special Forces camp more than two years ago.

A U.S. graves registration team is searching for more. The remains of the five were found near an allied combat base 13 miles from the Laotian border in the northern part of South Vietnam. "The base was reopened in mid-July."

Shipping Tycoon Niarchos Faces Probe Of Death

ATHENS (AP) — Greek shipping tycoon Stavros Niarchos was reported cruising somewhere in the Mediterranean today as a grand jury pondered whether he should be charged with fatally injuring his wife.

The magnate's third wife, Eugenia, died May 4 in the couple's villa on their private island in the Aegean Sea. A coroner's report said she died of an overdose of barbiturates, but noted there were bruises on her head, throat and chest.

The coroner said the bruises were the results of "old-fashioned" attempts by her husband to revive her after he found her in a coma.

But prosecutor Constantine Fafoutis proposed to a grand jury Friday that the 61-year-old Niarchos be charged with causing lethal injuries in his wife's death. If brought to trial and convicted, Niarchos could receive a maximum of 10 years in prison.

Normally, a grand jury—called a penal council in Greece—would either accept or amend a prosecutor's proposal. But a high court official today noted that there have been cases of penal councils dropping charges altogether.

Most Greeks were unaware of the latest developments in the case, because word of it was banned from local papers by the prosecutor in order not to hinder a magistrate's investigation.

Niarchos, one of the "Golden Greeks" of the shipping industry and an archrival of Aristotle Onassis, had been prohibited from leaving the country after the autopsy on his wife. But the ban was lifted in July and he left for London on business.

Niarchos' nephew and family

spokesman, Constantine Dracopoulos, said after Eugenia's death that she had become upset because of a telephone call the tycoon made to his fourth wife, the former Charlotte Ford, from whom he was divorced.

The purpose of the call, Dracopoulos said, was to ask Charlotte to send their daughter to Greece for the summer. Mrs. Niarchos misunderstood the intent of the call, the spokesman said, and went to her bedroom where she took barbiturates.

The terrorists, including two women, managed to play a fragment of the tape recording. But the signal was cut seconds later at the station's transmission tower outside the capital. The guerrillas then fled, and police confiscated the tape.

The raid took place 10 days after the last confirmed message from the Tupamaro guerrilla organization concerning its two kidnapped foreign hostages — U.S. soil expert Claude L. Fly, 65, and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41.

Dias Gomide and Dan A. Mitrone, an American adviser to Uruguayan police, were kidnapped July 31. Fly, also an adviser to the Uruguayan government, was seized Aug. 7. Mitrone was murdered Aug. 10 after the government refused the kidnappers' demand that all political prisoners in Uruguay's jails be released as ransom.

Police and soldiers have now searched some 15,000 residences and arrested 30 persons with Tupamaro connections, official sources said. But it was becoming clear that police could not hope to inspect all the several hundred thousand dwellings in the capital.

Tupamaros Off The Air

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Six Tupamaro terrorists took over a radio station in downtown Montevideo for 11 minutes Friday night but failed in an attempt to broadcast a recorded message.

The terrorists, including two women, managed to play a fragment of the tape recording. But the signal was cut seconds later at the station's transmission tower outside the capital. The guerrillas then fled, and police confiscated the tape.

The raid took place 10 days after the last confirmed message from the Tupamaro guerrilla organization concerning its two kidnapped foreign hostages — U.S. soil expert Claude L. Fly, 65, and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Dias Gomide, 41.

Dias Gomide and Dan A. Mitrone, an American adviser to Uruguayan police, were kidnapped July 31. Fly, also an adviser to the Uruguayan government, was seized Aug. 7. Mitrone was murdered Aug. 10 after the government refused the kidnappers' demand that all political prisoners in Uruguay's jails be released as ransom.

Police and soldiers have now searched some 15,000 residences and arrested 30 persons with Tupamaro connections, official sources said. But it was becoming clear that police could not hope to inspect all the several hundred thousand dwellings in the capital.

Wagnalls World Series Schedules Film On Sweden

"Sweden and the Swedes" will be presented Aug. 30 as part of The World Around Us series sponsored by Wagnalls Memorial in Lithopolis.

The film is a color motion picture about that cosmopolitan country and its people. It will be shown without charge at 2:30 p.m. at the Wagnalls Memorial auditorium.

Presenting the film will be Aubert Lavastida, a professional film maker and Director of Motion Picture Production of the Audio-Visual Education Center of the University of Michigan.

Lavastida depicts the things about Sweden that make it different from other places — the bursting of summer upon the land like a miracle. Swedes celebrate the advent of summer with feasting and fireworks, festival and folk dancing, all portrayed in the film.

Sweden also ranks as the energy giant of northern Europe. Its standards of living and productivity are among the highest in Europe. From poverty so widespread a few generations ago that it cost the country one-fifth of its population by emigration, the hard-working, ingenious Swedes have turned their economy into one of the world's most prosperous.

Citizens Help Boost Circleville Band Fund

Two hundred thirty-five adults aided the Circleville High School Band Fund with an equal amount of dollars Thursday in a taste testing program at the school.

Mothers, neighbors and other women living throughout the city took part in the project to raise funds for the band. The taste test is a method utilized by companies to test their new products on the consumer. The sponsoring organization is paid for each "taster" they provide.

Gary Dean, new band director at CHS, was pleased with the results of the project. Similar support will make the annual band program set for Sept. 4 as great a success.

New Ohio Historical Society Center Impressive

Awesome, impressive and spacious are words used to describe the New Ohio Historical Center to be dedicated and opened to the public 3 p.m. Sunday. It is that and a magnificent showplace, aesthetically functional.

Representatives of the press, radio and TV toured the board-formed concrete, multi-leveled building Friday afternoon with Daniel R. Porter, Ohio Historical Society director for a preview look at the $7.5 million structure.

The best of ideas from the best museums and archives libraries were incorporated in the design to afford a state historical facility to effectively house archives and display Ohio's memorabilia.

In addition to the one and one-half acres of exhibits the Center features a research center and fully-equipped laboratory for the restoration of manuscripts.

Natural life specimens will be exhibited after undergoing a freeze-dried technique of preservation. According to the Center director, the process provides an inexpensive and extremely precise method of preparing fragile animals and plants for use in exhibits. The process unit is the first of its kind in use by an Ohio museum.

No corner stone laying ceremonies will dedicate the new building. A specially-crafted titanium time capsule containing historical items pertaining to the center will be permanently deposited in the concrete floor of the Center's auditorium foyer. It will be capped by a bronze seal of the Ohio Historical Society.

Few exhibits will be completed by dedication day. Workmen Friday were busily laying the generous expanses of carpeting and placing displays in preparation for opening day.

According to the Center director, "no museum is ever completed" but a near-total program is expected to be completed in Spring, 1971.

Following the Sunday dedication, the Historical Center will be open to the public at no charge 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday; Sundays and holidays 1 - 5 p.m.; and Wednesday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The library archives will be closed Sundays and holidays.

The center is located directly across from the State Fairgrounds on 17th Ave., Columbus, off Interstate 71.

C&O Span Is Toppled Into River

CINCINNATI (AP) — Crowds estimated at better than 10,000 lined both the Ohio and Kentucky banks of the Ohio River Friday as steel workers, using hydraulic jacks toppled one of three huge spans of the C & O bridge into the river 70 feet below.

Tug and boat whistles blared and the rush-hour crowds cheered as the 500-foot long, 1,400 ton structure rolled off the piers and thundered down.

The U.S. Coast Guard had blocked the busy river traffic between Cincinnati and Covington while work by the Allied Structural Steel Co. proceeded.

The giant span took about six seconds to fall and buckled when part of it struck the Ohio bank. Workmen proceeded to cut the steel into scrap and loaded it into barges. The two remaining spans will be dropped in late September.

The bridge was ordered closed by the Kentucky Highway Department in 1968 after declaring it hazardous. The ruling followed a meticulous inspection of all Ohio River bridges triggered by the collapse of the Silver Bridge between Point Pleasant, W.Va. and Kanawha, Ohio, killing 46 in December of 1967.

The C & O bridge will be replaced by a new three-lane structure scheduled for completion in 1972. Some of the old piers will be used. It will be built with federal, Kentucky and Ohio funds.

Children Plan Carnival Against MD

A neighborhood carnival against muscular dystrophy will be held noon Tuesday at 507 N. Pickaway St.

Jerry Yeatts, son of Mrs. Hazel Yeatts, will serve as ringmaster assisted by Jackie Peters, Mark and Chrystal Stimpert, Paul Johnson and David Cook.

The carnival will feature such games as pot ball, fortune telling, marbles, tin target pie toss, penny pitch and food stand. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions.

The children got the idea for staging the event while watching TV personality Jerry Lewis, who is promoting carnivals on his Jerry Lewis Telethon children's show.

Last year in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, more than 20,000 carnivals were held by children across the country and over $353,000 was raised for MDA's research and patient service programs.

Living Costs Rise Again, But Slower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs posted the third straight monthly rise of four-tenths of one per cent in July. However, the government said today that, when seasonal factors were considered, it represented a slight easing of the nation's inflation.

Price increases for food, transportation, medical care and some housing costs were the major factors in last month's rise that pushed the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index up to 135.7.

The figure means it took $13.57 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the July hike, on a seasonally adjusted basis, was three-tenths of one per cent. This was the same as the seasonal figure in June and was the smallest two-month rise in more than two years, on a seasonal basis.

The bureau also reported that average weekly earnings of approximately 45 million rank-and-file workers rose $1.02 to $121.07 per week. After adjustment for price increases, this represented a slight rise in purchasing power, but purchasing power was still nearly one per cent below a year earlier.

Consumer prices were 5.9 per cent above July of 1969, a slight drop in the 6 per cent rate of inflation that has prevailed for the past year and a half.

Food prices rose slightly more than seasonally in July, with larger increases for eggs, bakery and dairy products, the bureau said. Meats, poultry and fish rose less than usual for July, and vegetables declined.

Sales And Use Tax Receipts Decrease

Sales and use tax collections in Pickaway County fell 1.82 per cent for the two week period from Aug. 2 to Aug. 15.

Collections for the period were $17,719.33 compared to $18,049.32 collected for the similar period a year ago.

Collections for the fiscal year to date (July 1 through Aug. 15) are $59,950.57 compared to $55,759.78 for the similar period a year ago.

Motor vehicle and house trailer sales and use tax collections for the period Aug. 2 through Aug. 15 are $29,174.53, up 1,889.26 over collections of a year ago.

Collections for the fiscal year to date are $65,730.73 compared to $65,616.95 a year ago.

Say Most Southern Schools Meet Federal Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ninety-four per cent of Southern school districts will meet federal desegregation guidelines this fall, although some schools will have pupils of only one race, the Justice Department says.

The department reported Friday that 566 districts in 11 states will be operating on a desegregated basis for the first time when classes open within the next few days.

Some of the 2,543 districts which meet federal approval will continue with all-black or all-white schools because of population patterns.

As the Justice report was issued, a senator charged the Internal Revenue Service has circumvented a federal court order in granting tax exemption to private Southern schools cropping up as integration of public classes increases.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., urged President Nixon to order IRS to obey the court mandate "and put an end to the deceptive pronouncements that have led the public to believe these segregation academies are being denied tax support."

A federal judge ordered IRS in June to suspend tax exemptions of private Mississippi schools until it could determine whether they were discriminating against blacks. IRS announced it would continue the tax-exempt status of those academies which promised an open admissions policy.

Mondale, chairman of the Senate Committee on Equal Educational Opportunity, charged the IRS "waited until September school enrollments were closed and classes were filled without a single black admission and then suspended exemptions of only those 11 schools which refused to promise they would open their doors to black students."

The 566 Southern school districts integrating for the first time this fall are under court order or have made agreements with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to desegregate.

An additional 159 systems, the Justice Department said, are being sued, are negotiating or are not subject to federal guidelines. In the third category are districts in which no federal school funds are spent or no black parents have complained to federal authorities about segregation.

Find Skeletons Of 5 Soldiers

KHAM DUC, Vietnam (AP) — Searchers have uncovered five skeletons believed to be those of American soldiers who died while providing rear guard protection for the evacuation of a U.S. Special Forces camp more than two years ago.

A U.S. graves registration team is searching for more. The remains of the five were found near an allied combat base 13 miles from the Laotian border in the northern part of South Vietnam. "The base was reopened in mid-July."

Shipping Tycoon Niarchos Faces Probe Of Death

ATHENS (AP) — Greek shipping tycoon Stavros Niarchos was reported cruising somewhere in the Mediterranean today as a grand jury pondered whether he should be charged with fatally injuring his wife.

The magnate's third wife, Eugenia, died May 4 in the couple's villa on their private island in the Aegean Sea. A coroner's report said she died of an overdose of barbiturates, but noted there were bruises on her head, throat and chest.

The coroner said the bruises were the results of "old-fashioned attempts by her husband to revive her after he found her in a coma."

But prosecutor Constantine Fafoutis proposed to a grand jury Friday that the 61-year-old Niarchos be charged with causing lethal injuries in his wife's death. If brought to trial and convicted, Niarchos could receive a maximum of 10 years in prison.

Normally, a grand jury—called a penal council in Greece—would either accept or amend a prosecutor's proposal. But a high court official today noted that there have been cases of penal councils dropping charges altogether.

Most Greeks were unaware of the latest developments in the case, because word of it was banned from local papers by the prosecutor in order not to hinder a magistrate's investigation.

Niarchos, one of the "Golden Greeks" of the shipping industry and an archrival of Aristotle Onassis, had been prohibited from leaving the country after the autopsy on his wife. But the ban was lifted in July and he left for London on business.

Niarchos' nephew and family

spokesman, Constantine Dracopoulos, said after Eugenia's death that she had become upset because of a telephone call the tycoon made to his fourth wife, the former Charlotte Ford, from whom he was divorced.

The purpose of the call, Dracopoulos said, was to ask Charlotte to send their daughter to Greece for the summer. Mrs. Niarchos misunderstood the intent of the call, the spokesman said, and went to her bedroom where she took barbiturates.

Typhoon Kills 15 During Sweep Across Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Anita, the most powerful typhoon to hit Japan so far this year, killed at least 15 persons in Western Japan and injured 222 others today. The weather bureau said the destructive storm might veer back across northern Japan.

Police said five persons were missing. 1,865 families were homeless and more than 45,000 houses were damaged or flooded.

After its death-dealing sweep across Shikoku, the main southern Japanese island, the storm moved into the Sea of Japan. The winds dropped from 111 to 78 miles per hour.

Heavy wind and rain on the fringe of the storm soaked Expo '70 in Osaka, 167 miles northwest of Anita's path, but officials said 249,260 had visited the Asian world's fair by noon.
